DAVE TAKES MAYOR OATH FIFTH TIME

Is Shown in When Council
Sworn Him to Have 95
Votes More Than Majority Which Is Needed

Oliphant Announces Contest of Election, While Mayor Declares That He Could Not Qualify If Chosen

The following are today's developments in the mayoralty situation:
John L. Dave sworn in as mayor of Oakland at noon.
City council last night, after canvassing vote, announced that Dave had won by 95 votes.
Candidate David Oliphant says he will contest the election by superior court action.
Mayor Dave says Oliphant could not qualify legally even if he won a recount. Dave says Oliphant is a county jury commissioner and could not legally be a candidate for mayor.

For the fifth time in his life, John Leslie Dave was sworn in as mayor of Oakland this noon by the city clerk, continuing in the office which he has held consecutively since 1915.

The ceremony was brief. It consisted of a simple oath of office and the filing of a bond for $10,000, as is required by law. There were few spectators except for two city commissioners and the mayor's secretary.

This is Dave's fifth oath of office, though it is his fourth actual term. He was elected mayor in 1895 for one term. He was elected again in 1915, and also in 1919, and now in 1933; but in 1917 there was a recall election and he was elected for about five weeks, being re-elected to the office immediately by a big vote.

OLIPHANT SAYS HE WILL CONTEST
Candidate Oliphant, however, says he will contest the present election, on the ground of errors in various election precincts which form ground for doubt as to the actual count. The city council last night, however, found several errors which reflected to the advantage of Dave. The Dave workers assert that if there were any errors, at present unascertained, they may add to the benefit of Dave.

Dave himself opened up on Oliphant's candidacy today.
"He could not qualify if elected and successful in every other way," says Mayor Dave. "The law says that a person holding a city or county office, unless he is running for re-election, must resign thirty days before filing his nominating petition. This was established by an opinion by City Attorney Leon E. Gray in a case concerning another person, but the law is the same."

Oliphant and his workers assert that this is a "minor technicality" which would not be necessarily vital.

DAVE ISSUES
OFFICIAL STATEMENT
Mayor Dave, on taking office, issued the following statement:
"I wish to thank my many friends for their loyal support. I am very proud to think that I have been honored with the largest number of votes ever cast for a mayor at a primary election in the history of Oakland."

"The official canvass showed that I had 190 votes more than all other candidates for mayor combined," Mr. Oliphant, by nearly 5,000 votes.

"I cannot express the appreciation which I feel for this overwhelming vote of confidence in the administration."

FIGURES SHOW
ELECTION RESULT
The official figures, as amended slightly by the city canvassing board, are as follows:

Dave	22,561
Meyers	244
Oliphant	15,800
Reed	5,421
Total vote	44,932

Dave's increased majority is caused by actual losses in the recount to his opponents. Meyers lost one vote and Oliphant five. The largest loss, however, was to Reed, who, in one precinct, had 72 votes, but in the recount, had 77.

Dave's lead was thus increased over his combined opponents.

The precinct in question was 278. This precinct announced that the total vote was 177 while the votes cast for mayor came to 248. The score gave Dave 50, Meyers 1, Oliphant 49 and Reed 18.

Chief clerk, showed that Reed's vote was 1 and not 18, which subtracted 77 from the anti-Dave vote in the city.

Immediately after the canvass, Mayor Dave was formally declared to have won the election.

PENNSYLVANIAN NEW D. A. R. HEAD

Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook
Is Elected After Hot Battle On Record.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Pennsylvania, was declared elected president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution today after one of the bitterest election contests in the history of the society.

The vote for Mrs. Cook was 940. Her only opponent, Mrs. G. Wallace W. Hanger of Washington, received a vote of 773.

While the voting was in progress, police and firemen had been called upon to help preserve order, and when the result was made known the congress went into a prolonged and noisy demonstration for the society's nomination.

Mrs. Thomas E. Edison of New Jersey was elected chaplain-general by a vote of 871 to 746 over Mrs. Rhett Goode, of Alabama, who was Mrs. Cook's candidate. All the remainder of the Cook ticket was elected. The other successful candidates follow:

Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, of Maine, recording secretary-general, 847; Mrs. Frank P. Shuman, of Massachusetts, corresponding secretary-general, 830; Mrs. William E. Walker, of Washington, recording secretary-general, 923; Mrs. James H. Stansfield, of Illinois, registrar-general, 973; Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, of Michigan, treasurer-general, 924; Mrs. George Dehob, of West Virginia, historian-general, 918; Mrs. Alvin H. Connely, of Missouri, recorder-general, 953; Mrs. Larz Anderson, of the District of Columbia, librarian-general, 918.

Vice-presidents general: Mrs. Henry A. Beck of Indiana, 1435; Mrs. Charles R. Drake, California, 1435; Mrs. E. G. Drake, Nebraska, 1470; Mrs. Gerold Livingston Schuyler, Colorado, 1425; Mrs. Henry D. Flitts, of New Jersey, 1436; Mrs. William McGee Wilson, Ohio, 1413.

On the two candidates left in the field to succeed Mrs. George Maynard Minor as president-general continued until late last night. Long lines of women had filed past the tenters throughout the day and the excitement growing out of the sudden withdrawal from the race for president-general of Mrs. William Cummings of New York, reached a high pitch during the voting hours.

Mrs. Story declared she withdrew because of some of the campaign tactics resorted to in connection with the election, served to intensify feeling. Confusion became so great that police officers and firemen stationed at the hall took lines and in preserving order.

The officers-elect will serve three years.

Today's program for the congress includes the annual pilgrimage of the delegates to Mount Vernon to pay a tribute to Washington.

ASSEMBLY DEADLOCKS ON BUDGET

House Gets Into Tangle Over Wright Amendment, Still Tied Up When Agreement
Defers Action to Monday

Administration Forces Lose Ground During Debate On Proposals; Tideland Bill
Goes to Its Final Reading

TRIBUNE BUREAU. Sacramento, April 20.—The Assembly today passed, on the final reading, the bill of Assemblyman Edward J. Smith of Oakland, providing for the transfer of the southern waterfront tidelands on the Oakland from the State to the City of Oakland, for harbor and industrial purposes. The bill now goes to the Senate.

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—California Assemblymen dragged weary feet to the State House today. Only a bare quorum greeted Speaker Merriam when the session opened. Yesterday's long battle over the budget, which lasted until 2 a. m. today, left the lower house representatives in a little mood for early rising and a 9:30 roll call.

The most disappointing fact in the night session, which dragged through six dreary hours, was that nothing was determined. Split over an amendment increasing the salary item for the San Jose Teachers' College, the Assembly stood deadlocked, 39 to 39, when an adjournment agreement was reached. Assemblyman Fred Hawes, San Francisco, disappeared early in the evening, when he rolled in the standstill when the roll was called. A call of the house succeeded by numerous roll calls failed to change the vote. Hawes could not be found and not a legislator would change his tally.

ADMINISTRATION
LOST GROUND.
Last night's tie followed a day's consideration of the budget, in which the administration lost ground. Amendments by Morrison increasing the salary and support items for the San Francisco Teachers' College, were approved despite the earnest endeavors of Governor Richardson's forces to prevent further budget raises.

The session was featured by heated speeches, sharp arguments and pleas from the spokesmen of both sides. The budget bill, introduced in the Assembly first because the lower house was expected to approve it without alterations, was ground, and administration leaders were vehement in their verbal support of the document in the form of the government presented.

Despite these efforts, both the Morrison amendments were carried, with legislators from districts where five legislators from districts are situated, optimistic over the possibility of raising the amounts appropriated for the maintenance of their pet institutions.

TANGLE OVER
WRIGHT AMENDMENT.
Last night the house got into a tangle over the Wright amendment, and was still tied up in the small hours of the morning.

The amendment under discussion was proposed by T. M. Wright and sought to give the tidelands college at San Jose about $26,000 for additional salaries and support. On the roll call on the amendment, Wright had a vote or two the best of it, but the administration forces got a call of the roll and managed to hold it for long and weary hours.

The chief clerk was authorized to provide sandwiches and coffee, the "musical" souls harmonized closely and otherwise, and then members drank themselves away.

At times the assembly straightened around and passed a few uncontested measures, but most of the time was given to laboring fruitlessly with those of the opposing forces.

SESSSION THROWN WAY OUT OF GEAR.
These proceedings threw the assembly so far out of gear that nobody attempted to forecast what it would do today. The senate, however, planned to meet at the usual hour of eleven and take up its regular order of business, which included nothing of unusual interest.

Finally, about 2 o'clock this morning, the assembly decided it was not exercising good judgment to sit idle while the state was searching for Hawes, and a "gentleman's agreement" was fixed up and carried out after some discussion, that left matters about as they were and permitted adjournment.

It was agreed that the call of the house would be lifted. This was done. Then the absentees

Missing Child Is Found Dazed In Her Own Home

Girl Believed to Have Been Carried to Basement by Abductor.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—After being mysteriously missing for four days, 14-year-old Gertrude C. Chronik, 1452B Forty-seventh avenue, was found unconscious in the basement of her own home today, the probable victim of an attack. That the girl was carried into the cellar and left there, dazed and bleeding, was apparent from the statement of her mother, who told the police that she had searched the basement on two occasions after the girl's disappearance on Monday.

"I'm hungry, I'm hungry," was all the girl said when she opened her eyes after a physician had administered a stimulant a half hour after she was discovered.

NEIGHBORHOOD IN TUMULT AT FINDING.

The girl was found by J. C. Short, a builder, who has some lumber stored in the basement. He immediately notified the mother upstairs, and her cries when she discovered her daughter's condition brought neighbors. In a moment the wildest excitement prevailed. There were bloodstains on the girl's clothing, which was badly disarranged. School books were in her bag, which was filled with food and other articles.

There is some sand in the basement, but it is thought that she was taken some place, possibly along the ocean beach, where she lost the books and where her bag became filled with the sand. After the police had arrived on the scene the girl was hurried to the Central Emergency hospital. There an examination was made to determine whether or not she had been the victim of an attack.

At the hospital the girl was revived and questioned by Police-woman Katherine Sullivan, said: "I was on my way to school and was walking across a lot when I felt something hit me on the head. I don't remember anything more until I found myself home a little while ago."

Mrs. Sullivan was not satisfied with this statement and continued to question the child.

DISAPPEARANCE LAD TO TRUANCY.

The girl left her home to go to Lowell High school Monday morning. She was not seen again until found today. Her mother, Mrs. May Chronik, when she reported the matter to the police, said the girl had often played truant, and that she had tried to get a job.

Gertrude's uncle, J. Maloney, of 219 North E Street, San Mateo, took part in the search for her and was on hand today when she was found.

EASTBAY PLANS HOSPITAL FIGHT

Civic Bodies Want Ex-Soldier
Sanatorium Kept at Livermore.

Disturbed by reports that the government sanatorium for ex-soldiers to be established at Livermore will instead be located in Los Angeles, civic bodies of the entire San Francisco Bay region today began an investigation of the rumors and moved to check any transfer of the hospital.

Joseph H. Mosser, of the office of Matthew O'Brien, San Francisco architect, whose plans for the $1,500,000 institution to be erected at Livermore were accepted and approved by the heads of the United States today, announced that word received from Washington points almost conclusively to transfer of the hospital site.

The Livermore site for the sanatorium was purchased by the government for $200,000 after it had been declared by medical experts to be the finest spot on the Pacific coast for the location of a tubercular institution.

Because this investment has already been made and the work on the hospital was about to be started, Oakland men say that only the best kind of political roll playing has succeeded in having the institution transferred to the eastern part of the state, if that proves to be the case.

Harrison A. Robinson of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, immediately moved to check any transfer of the institution when it was reported that such a change was contemplated. The Chamber

The indictments involved 15 separate promotions, including some of the most prominent in Texas.

JURY REPORT

The grand jury report followed intensive investigations made by department of justice and postoffice department agents, during which they discovered an alleged gigantic swindle extending to all corners of the United States.

Arrests of those named in the indictments were ordered to be made immediately and United States marshals armed with warrants hurried from the federal building immediately after the grand jury report was returned. Bonds of from $5000 to $10,000 were to be asked in each case.

Dr. Cook and a number of other promoters were arrested recently in connection with the alleged swindle. Their arrests were ordered in advance of the grand jury report.

Among the individual companies named in the indictments today were:

Legal Battle Begun Here On Veteran Head

Test Suit, Backed by the Big Societies, Is Filed Against Louis T. Grant.

The first legal attack upon the United States War Veterans' Bureau for its alleged failure to grant disability compensation to those justly entitled to it, was today instituted in the United States District court for the northern district of California.

The action, which, it is said, is backed by the American Legion, the Disabled Veterans of the World War and other military organizations, is directed against Louis T. Grant, director of the United States Veterans' Bureau, 12th district, with headquarters in San Francisco.

The action is in the form of a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Director Grant to correct the records of the bureau regarding the case of Lawrence Bertram Gross, on whose behalf the petition is filed. Although Gross was discharged from the navy as "physically unfit for the service from causes incurred in the line of duty," it is charged, Director Grant has wrongfully refused to make the records of the bureau conform to this discharge, with the result that Gross has been deprived of $7,000 a year since his war veterans' insurance act, as amended August 3, 1921.

PETITION FILED AS TEST CASE

The petition is filed as a test case, according to Attorney Joseph L. Fainer, counsel for the Disabled Veterans of the World War, and, if successful, it will affect approximately 15,000 similar cases in California and approximately 150,000 in the United States.

Legal action has been resorted to, it is declared, following the failure of thousands of war heroes who were disabled in service to secure the compensation assured them by congress in passing the War Risk Insurance Act.

This condition has resulted in general dissatisfaction among the men who made untold sacrifices to respond to the defense of the country in the World War, according to Fainer. He further declared it puts the government in the light of not living up to its assumed obligations.

The petition recites the provisions of the War Risk Insurance Act and details Gross' case. It is alleged that Gross enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve Force April 16, 1917, at San Francisco; that all disabilities and defects were noted by the medical examiner; that Gross was found physically fit for service; and that he did serve until his discharge for "physical disability" February 12, 1918, at San Francisco, as a chief yeoman.

REFUSAL TO CORRECT RECORD ALLEGED

The petition further avers: "That Louis T. Grant, director of the United States Veterans' Bureau of the 12th district, refuses to correct his records of your petitioner's claim to read that your petitioner is of service origin; that because of such wrongful refusal of Louis T. Grant to obey the law as heretofore stated, your petitioner has been deprived of all his rights under the War Risk Insurance Act; that your petitioner has suffered a great wrong, and continues to suffer because of this willful disobedience of the law."

It is further alleged that Grant has been to keep your petitioner from taking his claim with his fellow-men as a commercial asset.

"That your petitioner has demanded of Louis T. Grant that he perform his duty in your petitioner's claim as is prescribed by law, and that Louis T. Grant, in utter disregard of his duty, has refused and continues to refuse to obey the law."

"That your petitioner is unable to obtain a speedy or adequate remedy at law."

"Wherefore, your petitioner prays that a writ of mandamus may be issued out of this honorable court, directed to Louis T. Grant, director of the 12th district of the United States Veterans' Bureau, commanding him, as such director, to correct the records in the claim of your petitioner, to read that disability of Lawrence Bertram Gross is of service origin, and to such other acts as may be necessary or proper in the premises."

Abandoning their address and furniture barricades, which they had set up around the city hall, the rioters stopped automobiles, trucks and street cars and used them as "tanks." They were unable to get very much ammunition. Some stores were raided for arms; but storekeepers closed up and destroyed their stock to keep the invaders from getting them.

Communications with the outside world, which were disrupted in the early hours of the morning, were not restored until after the battle had ended and the rioters had been driven into the suburbs.

Some have been killed and many wounded in hunger riots at Mulheim since yesterday.

The torch of revolt is being carried through the Ruhr valley by excited unemployed.

Barricades of mattresses and household furniture were set up in the streets of Mulheim, where enraged armed men camped about the city hall, besieging the authorities.

The police, assisted by some citizen volunteers, finally succeeded in chasing the weary rioters from the city hall and the inner section of the city.

A despatch via Amsterdam announced that there was violent fighting about the city hall during the night and that this stronghold was at that time the only point holding out against the demonstrators.

The rioters began attacking the city hall when officials were unable to carry the demand of $100,000 for increased government aid. They threatened that they would burn the city hall.

Within a few hours the city hall was in the hands of the rioters.

Bar resolutions of election were given William J. Baccus as commissioner and Fred Campbell as school director. The policemen and firemen's amendment, increasing the canvassing board eliminated five scattered votes for mayor, declared by the city clerk to be illegal. None of them were for registered candidates and in one case a vote was cast for a person who did not exist.

Small gains and losses, not affecting the result of the election, were registered for various other candidates aside from the majority contest. These included the following:

Edwards gained 20; Neiderman lost 1; Hempstead lost 2; Moorehead gained 10; Mattis gained 6; Downey gained 10; Engler lost 23; Arnest lost 1; Craig lost 23; Kraemer gained 43; Campbell gained 46; Lyon lost 5; Miller gained 27; Francis gained 3; Boyle lost 2; Magoon lost 5.

of Commerce telegraphed to the director of the Veterans' Bureau asking to be informed of the status of the case, and communicated with senators Johnson and Shortridge to have them exert their influence to prevent a change in the plans.

Residents of Livermore were greatly disturbed upon hearing of the proposed transfer of the hospital, because many of them have made business plans hinging upon the establishment of the sanatorium there.

CONGRESSMEN ASKED TO TAKE UP FIGHT

M. G. Callaghan, postmaster of Livermore, has telegraphed to Congressman McLaughlin to enlist his aid in behalf of the Livermore site. He also communicated with Senator Shortridge and has received his pledge to fight to keep the hospital in this vicinity.

Officials of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce also have against any transfer of the hospital. After telegraphing to Washington to determine the status of the case the officials of the Oakland and San Francisco chambers of commerce conferred on ways and means of checking what was termed the "political influence trying to deprive this section of what it has justly earned."

Mooser has been in close touch with the situation and he reports that the loss of the hospital would be a serious one to the San Francisco bay region.

"The sanatorium is to cost $1,600,000," said he, "and in addition to that there will be a veritable army of employees and paperity of the community.

SAN FRANCISCO TO AID EASTBAY.

More than a month ago the report came out that the hospital was to be transferred but officials of the Veterans' Bureau and the state's representatives in Washington denied any change.

Mooser declares the community should have been put on its guard at that time, and that because of unwatchfulness probably has lost the government institution.

"Indications are that a division of the hospital is to be made," said Mooser, "and just enough of it will be left for appearance sake in abandoned."

Robert Newton Lynch of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, took the matter of the sanatorium up with the directors of that body, and it was decided that a determined fight would be made to keep the institution "where it belongs."

"We are greatly interested in the establishment of the hospital at Livermore," said Lynch, "and the best efforts of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce will be exerted to the end that the site it not changed."

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

Woods reports that the confederation voted to come to Oakland, but this action will have to be passed on by the board of directors of the organization, which is unfavorable to coming so far west.

The aid of the Chamber of Commerce has been pledged to Woods in his efforts to bring the 1300 delegates to Oakland next year.

SUPERVISORS OF COUNTY FINANCE COUNTY ENGINEER TUBE AT ESTUARY

Heyer of Hayward and Knox of Livermore Urge Vote Favoring Bonds.

Members of the board of supervisors went on record today as favoring a tube under the estuary, bonds for which will be voted on at the general election May 8.

Charles Heyer of Hayward declared a tube is so far superior to any form of bridge that could be built that the people cannot afford to make the mistake of refusing to vote the bonds.

"The tube will be most satisfactory in the long run," said Heyer "and is really the only definite solution to the problem with which we are confronted. Many have pointed out that a bascule bridge will cost less money. It is true that the tube will be more expensive at the moment but it is also true that the tube will last 100 years, while any bridge is liable to become obsolete in twenty-five years or less. If we had to build another bridge in twenty or twenty-five years, we would lose money."

"It is also true that no bridge will eliminate troublesome delay. It is estimated that the best type of modern bascule bridge would not clear more than 20 or 30 per cent of the ships passing in the channel. That means that the bridge would have to be opened for approximately every other ship passing up and down the inner harbor.
When the bridge is open, the land traffic is blocked and if we made the mistake of building a bridge we would still have long lines of street cars and automobiles piling up on both sides of the estuary."

"I have considered the matter from every possible angle and I unhesitatingly endorse the tube. It is my firm conviction that this matter is of vital importance to the people of Hayward and my end of the county as well as to the people of Oakland and Alameda. I hope the people in every community in Alameda county will support the bond issue."

Supervisor Thomas Knox, from the Livermore district, in speaking of the tube said he believed an improvement of this nature was bound to be of benefit to every part of the county.

"Livermore people will naturally not derive so much benefit from this tube as will the people of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley," he said, "yet I feel that what is good for one part of the county is good for all. We must stand together as a unit for progress and improvement."

EVERYTHING MEN, YOUNG MEN AND BOYS WEAR
At Your Nearest Roos Store

Now the new Roos store is ready for its ornamental cornice.

Steadily and surely the work is progressing. The concrete for the walls has been poured as fast as good engineering practice decided. The workmen inside the wall are doing their best work, each in his most skillful manner to make this new Roos store an edifice worthy of Oakland and worthy of Roos customers. About Labor Day you'll be proud of Broadway at Fifteenth. Watch the progress of this store!

What are Men wearing this Spring

Just to say: "The answer is in your nearest Roos store" at Washington and 13th would not fully explain. So here are a few details:

CONSERVATIVE business men favor the Brooks model, high-buttoning; in quiet, dark patterns and colors.

MORE liberal-in-thought men are wearing light (in some cases, sporty) Tweeds, cut along loose lines for more freedom of action.

MANY men are choosing 4-piece light Spring suits; wearing the trousers to office and store, and changing to matching knickers for an afternoon game of golf.

SOME who travel a lot are buying Palm Beach suits to wear in the South, or to Canal Zone or Orient.

TWENTY NURSES GRADUATE FROM LOCAL HOSPITAL

Samuel Merritt School Scene of Exercises for Big Graduating Class.

The Samuel Merritt Hospital School of Nursing graduated twenty young women last night at impressive commencement exercises in the Farrelly Nurses' Home.

Alumnae, faculty and students of the school of nursing led the class of '23, in the processional, the order being reversed in the recessional which followed the presentation of the diplomas by Dr. William S. Porter. Each young woman solemnly dedicated herself to her chosen profession with a recitation of the Florence Nightingale pledge. Dr. Charles A. Duke presided as chairman of the commencement program. The address was made by Harmon Bell, Rev. John Snape, D. D., offered the invocation. The music was contributed by M. Arthur Garcia, violin, assisted at the piano by Miss Eva M. Garcia; Mrs. Dorothy Dukes Dimm, cello, assisted at the piano by Mrs. Martha Dukes Parker, Hugh Williams, vocal list.

The young women who received their diplomas last night are: Ruby Fort, Rold, Ellen May Bennett, Freda E. Brown, Ellen L. Foster, Gertrude Meyer, Monrille Christina, Gales, Amanda Evelyn, Fredrick, Dorothea, Cockroft, Carolyn E. George, Dorothy A. Schuyler, Sadie Lellie, Gertrude Mildred Boyd, Charlotte, Matilda Volk, Lola Winifred Pritchard, Ruth Elizabeth Sverreen, Ida L. Brooks, Florence Evelyn Thaxter, Louise Morse, "Clara," Mabel Wright, Ruby E. Baker.

Hay Chapman To Give Golf Talk

SAFETY FRANCISCO, April 20.—R. H. Hay Chapman, editor of "The Golf and Motor" and a leading golf authority, will deliver a discourse on "The Spirit of Golf and Its Analogy to Life" in the Paul Elder Gallery tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Incidentally he will offer some consolation to golf widows, while discussing golf's virtues and vices from a philosophic standpoint. Hay Chapman's little book, "Law of the Links," recently published and dedicated by permission to Chief Justice Taft, has had an instantaneous success among golfers. It takes the reader over the course, considering every contingency of the game, thus avoiding the perplexing study of the now intricate code.

Farrelly Nurses Are Given Diplomas

Twenty young women were awarded diplomas last night at impressive commencement exercises in the Farrelly Nurses' Home, marking their graduation from the Samuel Merritt Hospital School of Nursing. Each dedicated herself to her profession by reciting the Florence Nightingale pledge. The diplomas were presented by Dr. William S. Porter. The class of '23 is here shown.

3 PROCESSIONS AT WEDDING OF DUKE OF YORK

LONDON, April 20.—(By The Associated Press.)—Three processions will march down the ancient aisles of Westminster Abbey at the wedding of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon on April 26. The first will be that of the royal family, led by the king and queen, followed by Queen Alexandra, escorted by the Duke of Connaught.

The principal clergy for the ceremony will then proceed to their places. After a pause, the bridal procession will follow, headed by the minor clergy of the abbey and the choir. Lady Elizabeth will pass through the nave with her father, her train carried by two bridesmaids, and behind them the other six attendants in pairs.

The opening sentences for the service have been specially written for the occasion and will be read by the dean of Westminster. The archbishop of Canterbury will then deliver his charge to the bride and bridegroom, and the ring having been placed on the finger of the bride, the blessing will follow.

Half Fares Enter Berkeley Contest

BERKELEY, April 19.—The much-discussed half fares for school children was brought into the Berkeley political campaign last night when James K. Fisk, candidate for mayor, pledged to make this matter one of his paramount issues if elected on May 1.

Fisk said that he was pledged to no one for the office of city manager. A group of neighbors of Captain and Mrs. J. W. Glover attended a house-meeting at their home, 1101 Shattuck avenue, last night and listened to addresses by E. Clarence Holmes, Frank D. Stringham and Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt of the Berkeley Municipal League.

Lower The Cost Of Dressing Well!

When we speak of dressing better, most men think we mean spending more. We don't. We simply mean buying the suit that fits you better, becomes your type of figure, gives you that well-groomed look. And your size in a Kirschbaum suit will do it—at a very moderate cost.

A Debt to You

A suit owes you this: good style, comfort, service, a full return for every dollar of the cost. And the right kind of a suit—one made by Kirschbaum, for instance—pays this debt. Pays it always and in full.

WOES OF OCEAN

DISCOVERED AT SHIP'S HOSPITAL

Variety of Treatment Used to Nurse Back Big Wanderers of Sea.

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY.

Through the streets of West Oakland, cross-cutting down narrow alleys and across lawless back yards where played scantily-clothed children, happy and sturdy in the cool salt air, the nurse led. Then it went on past countless railway tracks, through tall fences, past gateways and shop doors and on again beyond great piles of rusty iron and engine parts, weaving in and out of lines of hundreds of freight cars as they switched in every direction in confusion and noise and everywhere men and every man working.

No romance here! Each begrimed head bent to his task, the day's labor to perform but there seemed a presentiment of adventure in the very mist which blew against our faces and lured us toward the sea. We looked up. Towering black chimneys topped the long line of cars and shops and, against the gray sky, they plainly bespoke the presence of romance. They beckoned and we trudged on.

The tang of the sea came full force as we rounded the corner and stood beneath a great gateway. The words printed thereon told up we had reached the Moore drydock.

SHIPS GIVE OUT—LIKE MEN. How human are the vessels that sail the sea! Under the guiding hand of those who man them, they give of their strength and bodies to the world's business and adventure and, like humans, wear out and must be revived. Here at the docks were ten or more ailing vessels to be treated. It is a great hospital there at the repair yards. About 1,100 workmen nurse these bodies back to perfect health and the operation is dispatched with speed and efficiency. Two weeks ago at this drydock there were 28 vessels undergoing repair, its record number, and in 1920 there were 10,000 men doing the work.

And such a variety of treatment is needed for these interned ships. There is the Lake Frances and the Lake Cayuga, two lake type vessels. Strong ladies of the sea they are and just purchased from the shipping board by the Moore Drydock company for San Francisco interest. They do not appear to be weak and ailing but this is the secret. There is a beauty parlor department in the seaside retreat and the Frances and the Cayuga are to have the beauty pack. They are to be completely sealed, to use the ship doctor's words, and are to have a lovely new skin of the finest paint. They are to be greatly beautified and converted into lumber vessels and will then no longer be languishing sea beauties but will radiate athletic strength in their new steel masts and their eight 72-foot booms.

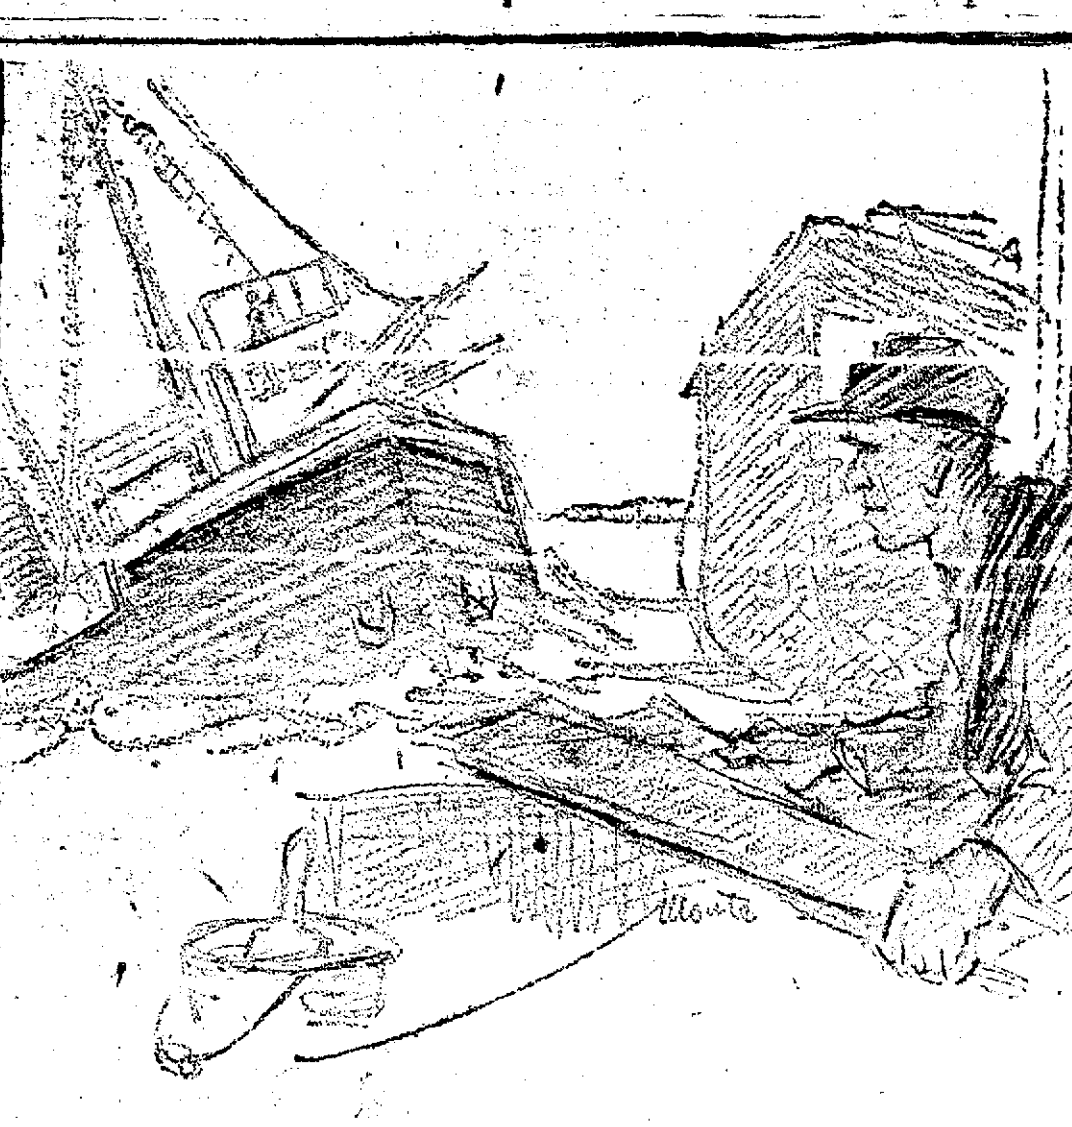

There is the Lake Pepin, a similar vessel for lumber trade. Gas-tronically speaking she is to have an oil-burning system in stalled beside other changes. Beside her in the yard lies the Linard Oil Company tanker, Bradford. The lap-lapping of the waves about her have completely anaesthetized her for hers is a serious case. The doctor says she is to have extensive rearrangement involving installation of large steel deck houses, crews' quarters and much machinery.

In a private ship, under the care of a complete staff of ship's physicians, lies the Cazadero, a Western Pacific ferry boat. Her prostration bids fair to mean a major operation, with all the trimmings. She is to be reconditioned and will remain there several months. Her engines are broken and will be replaced. She will have new keelsons and steel girders. That is, they will be removed and replaced, and her boilers will be overhauled. Beside all this, her passenger saloons will be gone over and, when she has recovered from her affliction, she will get a brand new coat of complexion from top to toe.

On a large floating dock reposes the "Commercial Pathfinder," a freighter which, when recovered from the shock of having her condenser ruptured, new propeller blades grafted and a reconditioned stern tube, will continue plying between here and New York, via the Panama canal.

TWIN STARS INTERESTING. But it was the last ward into which we ventured that smacked of real romance. The "Commercial Pathfinder" rather graced as a romantic name for a roving adventurer of the sea but we were more than consoled when we came face

Where "Sick" Ships Go to the Hospital

MARTINEZ C. OF C.

OFFICIALS OFFICIAL

MARTINEZ, April 20.—Members of the Martinez Chamber of Commerce are celebrating clearing up of the $6000 deficit sustained in the 1919 Costa Rica Exposition held in Martinez.

Handicapped for the last three years from engaging in broadened activities, the chamber has now lifted a burden from the organization that is expected to result in renewed life and a broader scope of work. Committees of the chamber will pay off the last obligations tomorrow.

Funds to pay off the indebtedness have been raised by the chamber through donations, membership and funds derived from baseball games and dances. The committee which has handled the exposition deficit fund is composed of T. B. Swift, C. H. Hayden and J. M. Reid, and has been given a special vote of thanks by directors of the organization.

RUSS CONGRESS APPROVES WORK OF THE SOVIETS

Associated Press.—The all-Russian Communist party congress, which shapes the policies of the Soviet regime in Russia, wound up two days of debate today with the passage of resolutions approving the central committee's policy as outlined by G. S. Zinoviev, its chairman. This includes firm adherence to the dictatorship of the proletariat, a strict monopoly on foreign trade, party direction of the economic reconstruction of the country and approval of the export of grain.

The resolution censured any sort of a break in the solid wall of the Soviet's international policy.

The Pravda, in an editorial, states the real meaning of this action is that the party is marching "under the banner and in the footsteps of Lenin," and that the party has demonstrated that it is against any revision of principles.

Preparations Made For Church Meeting

ALAMEDA, April 20.—Preparations are being made by the Young Men's club of the Christ Episcopal church in this city for the celebration of its third annual dinner Wednesday night, April 25, at 6:45 o'clock, as announced today by the committee in charge.

The program for the evening will consist of addresses by the honor guest of the evening, the Right Rev. Bishop E. Lamb Parsons, bishop coadjutor of the diocese of California, Rev. Alex Barton, student chaplain at the University of California, and Rev. Henry Stiles will also speak.

A musical program will be given under the direction of Roy D. McCarthy and D. A. Dickie. The committee in charge of the evening includes F. Neville, Kenneth Wells, Dexter Weeden, Julian Dickie, the Rev. Shires and C. E. Spurgeon.

ing over a railroad crossing at the rate of 40 miles an hour, Carl E. Forgrave, employee of a book company, residing at 1035 Seventh street, Oakland, must serve three days in the county jail.

"I'm going to sell my car," Forgrave told Judge John H. Paul, after the imposing of sentence. "When I want it to go it won't, and when I don't care it won't stop. I lost a day's pay last week because it broke down and I had to walk to work. It's been a jinx ever since I bought it three months ago."

So that Forgrave would not lose his position he was allowed to serve his three-day sentence at noon Saturday, April 28.

CAVE SIEGE ENDS

ACIDIC PEOPLE NO MORE FALL INTO RIVER

Several Captured, While Others Are Killed by Machine Guns.

LONDON, April 20.—(By the Associated Press).—The spectacular siege of the little band of Republicans which had been holding out against the Free State forces in a cave, 100 feet from the top of Clashmeelown cliff on the wild shore of the Shannon in County Kerry, has come to a sensational ending.

Two of the men, who had been fighting under a continuous machine gun fire since Monday night, fell from the cliff into the Shannon while trying to escape in the darkness of Wednesday night and were drowned; Commander Lyons, of the Hillside Fortress, dropped 100 feet to the beach while being hoisted up the cliff, but rose and was shot and killed while trying to escape, and the four others of the little party, including Walter Stevens of London, were captured, according to a despatch to the Central News from Tralee.

DUBLIN, April 20 (By the Associated Press).—Con Meany, one of the most prominent remaining leaders of the irregulars, was arrested yesterday by a party of national army troops at Curanaduff, near Millstreet, east of Killybeg, it was announced today. This is considered one of the most important captures made in Cork county. Meany participated in many of the ambushes against the British forces.

LONDON, April 20 (By the Associated Press).—Irish irregulars today attacked the Waterford Fishguard passenger steamer Great Western as she was proceeding slowly down the river Suir from Waterford, says an Evening News despatch from Fishguard. The steamer escaped without casualties.

GENEVA, April 20 (By the Associated Press).—The Irish Free State has applied for membership in the League of Nations.

The oven of the Estate Range differs from all others in that there are no openings in the side of the oven. No chance for the products of combustion to enter the oven. This construction insures better, sweeter, more wholesome baking and roasting and absolute uniformity of heat in every part of the oven.

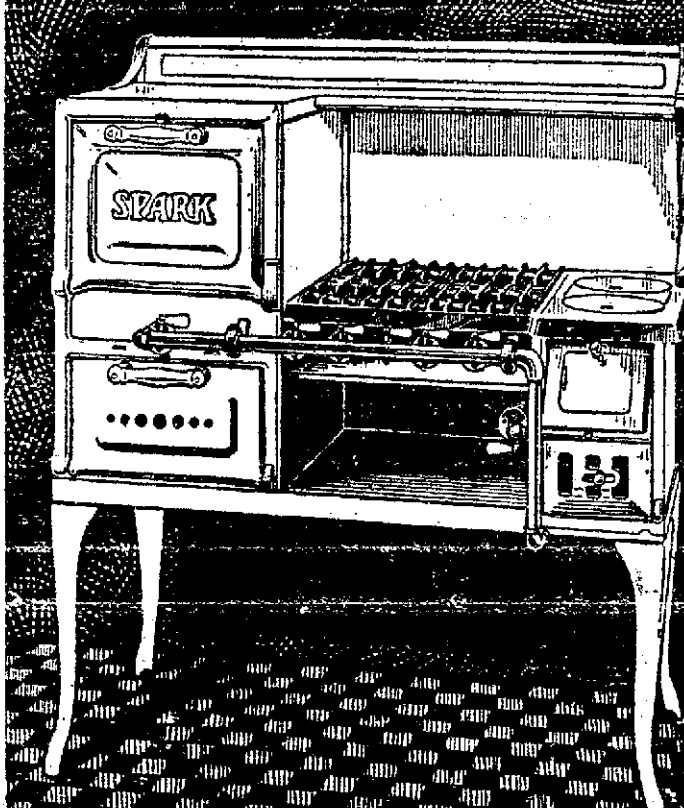

POSITIVE PROOF OF LESS SHRINKAGE.

Mrs. Konover, a factory representative, demonstrated this fact to a large audience yesterday. A 15-pound ham was photographed on a scale, placed in the Estate Fresh Air Oven, and after 4 hours' baking photographed again. The ham and ham fat weighed 14 3/4 pounds, showing a loss of 1/4 pound in shrinkage. It tastes very delicious and will be given away Saturday in sandwiches. You are invited.

ROTARIANS ON TRIAL IN THE PUBLIC'S MIND

Tom Bridges Tells Oakland Club of High Spots in the Coast Conference.

Graphic word pictures of the Pacific coast conference of Rotary clubs held recently in Pasadena, were sketched for members of the local organization who did not attend the convention, by Tom Bridges, past president of the Oakland Rotary club, at the club's luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Oakland.

According to Bridges, Rotarians throughout the country are on trial in the public mind and are expected to live up to the ideals of the organization.

"A Rotarian has a tremendous responsibility to live up to," said Bridges, "and because of the known standards, principles and code of the club, a member is always on trial before the public."

Other members of the club who gave their impressions of the conference included Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough, John Smith and Homer J. Bemis.

Tom Eaglesome, president of the club, commended the members of the organization for the active part they are taking in aiding the Community Chest campaign.

U. S. INDICTS 92 FOR OIL SWINDLE BY USE OF MAIL

Stock Sold Totals $136,000, 000; Buyers Cover Nation, Says Attorney.

Petroleum Producers' Association, the Revere Oil Company and the Pilgrim Oil Company.

The companies named in the indictments, according to District Attorney Zweifel, had a total of about 704,450 stockholders.

The Petroleum Producers' Association, largest of the firms involved in the indictments, is headed by Dr. Cook. Its ramifications are said to extend to every state in the union. Postal inspectors said truck loads of literature advertising the "get rich quick" possibilities of investments in Texas oil wells were mailed from the company's headquarters here. One of the circulars, it was charged, was signed by the former explorer, in which he cautioned wary investors against the "fake stock schemes" of unscrupulous promoters.

The Petroleum Producers grew out of a merger of a number of independent companies, each of which failed in its turn and was taken over by Cook.

S. F. ATTORNEY BLAMED FOR $250,000 FRAUD.

LOS ANGELES, April 20 (By International News Service).—Revealing that the alleged swindling operations of E. E. Rowell, San Francisco attorney, reached proportions much greater than first suspected, Deputy District Attorney

John F. Burton today announced that there are now on file in his office complaints from thirty victims, totaling an estimated loss to them of $120,000. Rowell was arrested when it was learned, officers said, that he had gained $300,000 through the sale of stocks in phantom oil lands in Utah and Colorado. In lieu of $10,000 bond, Rowell was still in the county jail. Investigation is said to have revealed counties in which Rowell is alleged to have told his victims he possessed oil land rights which did not exist at all.

It was said in The TRIBUNE that

SALINAS, April 20.—Tentative plans for a bigger and better rodeo here this week at a joint meeting

PIGGLY WIGGLY

All Over the World

"Just An Idea"

It was just an "idea"—that was all that he had—Columbus—those ages ago. It was just an "idea"—but we ought to be glad. For it gave us our country, you know.

It was just an "idea" in George Stevenson's mind When he saw the steam jostle the kettle. But the Railroads made brothers of all mankind. With their wonderful horses of metal.

It was just an "idea" Thomas Edison caught. But the light without flame we got from it. With another "idea" was the phonograph brought. And the "movies" that came like a comet.

It was just an "idea" caught from the air. Clarence Saunders the "idea" unfurled. "PIGGLY WIGGLY" treats all its customers square. And is known "All Over the World."

So—next time you hear someone say, with a sneer, "I'll not pay for that—for it's just an 'idea'!" Remind him there isn't a thing that he uses That doesn't date back to the source he abuses.

And tell him, there isn't a tool or machine That he handles, or works with, or even has seen. But he'll find, if he troubles to trace it, began As "just an idea" in the brain of a man.

CURTAIN CALLS

CHORUS girls are ever in the public prints. They are always the target of the press agent's pen and yet they are human after all, and not all of them are "head girls."

Here is a story that will prove this statement. It is the story of Edna Rochelle, and yet it isn't; it is the story of the chorus girl as a national figure, the story of the chorister as she is.

Three years ago Edna was kicking her heels in the biggest musical show on Broadway. She was a-top-notch despite the fact that her hair is dark instead of light; a universal favorite despite the fact that she did not "step" beyond the bounds of propriety.

Then the calamity came. Edna caught cold. The girls doctored her with simple remedies. She grew worse. A physician was called, the X-ray pictures were taken and the verdict given—Edna was through. She must be sent to Saranac Lake—not to fight for health, but to battle for life.

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

"Her Majesty" is the attraction at the Alcazar theater this week.

Dealing as it does with girls supposed to be fickle and fickle-brained and impervious to the attacks of conscience, this story should end here with the words: "And so Edna was forgotten by all her former friends."

Nothing is further from the case. Each week each girl in the many chorus organizations in New York writes a letter to Edna, each week messages of cheer go to the lonely girl at Saranac Lake, where Christ Mathewson fought his winning fight against the white plague.

Christmas time found the girls busy getting together the contents of a huge box of frills and fineries. The heart of Edna Rochelle, erstwhile chorus queen, must have palpitated when she opened that box. Came then Easter, and the girls went themselves one better, in their own parlance.

They invited Edna to New York and for a week she reamed from chorus room to chorus room, fete like a queen, and enjoying herself to the utmost. More medical examinations followed her brief visit, and Edna was ordered back to Saranac.

Last week a benefit performance was given in New York. Participants included Edith Day, Benny Leonard, Grace LaRue, and half a dozen others whose names are emblazoned in electricity along the gay white way. They gave time the managers couldn't buy.

And so $4000 was realized from this benefit. It forms the nucleus of a trust fund to take care of her for the rest of her life—no matter how long that may be, and checks are coming in from all parts of the company to swell this fund.

"Better Times" in Moscow? 'No' Says Burnside

The New York Hippodrome has celebrated its eighteenth birthday and is about to close, but R. H. Burnside, general director, is not going to overlook a chance to get through an item of publicity about it.

As in the past, Burnside story, while palpably publicity in it that automatically wins it a place in theatrical column, and the part of it is that he knows it as well as you do. The story:

"Following the publication of the news that Charles Dillingham has been made an offer for the entire Hippodrome to be presented in Paris this summer, R. H. Burnside, general director of the playhouse, has been besieged by theatrical promoters in all parts of the continent asking terms for a presentation of 'Better Times' in various capitals of Europe following the Paris engagement.

"Mr. Burnside has taken all of these offers seriously until one came from Moscow. The director sees a joker in this proposition. At least a dozen members of the Hippodrome ballet are Russian and speak the language fluently. Ivanova, Mikhailovskaya, Kirovich and Mironov have been in the ballet, and Popova is the daughter of a Russian priest.

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Lily Langtry opened in Washington last night in "An Unequal Match" and packed Ford's opera house despite a terrific rain storm.

"In case he transported the whole Hippodrome troupe to Moscow, the sight of familiar places and faces might cause any one of these native members of the cast to break out in his or her own native speech. This as Mr. Burnside pointed out, artistic effect of the venture."

Fine! Now the Moscow Art Players do not need to worry about going home.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

Edith Day, musical comedienne, has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the New York courts listing her liabilities at $15,545, and her assets at $280 in wardrobe.

There is a possibility that Robert Warwick will try out his next season's choice at the Fulton theater during his starting engagement. The play selected by the star is now being read by the Fulton management.

Before taking "The Wheel of Life" into New York, Elsie Ferguson will have it re-written.

"Bombo," with Al Jolson, will follow "The Dancing Girl" at the Winter Garden.

Pauline Frederick will be sent on tour in "The Gull" directly the New York run is concluded at the Selwyn theater.

WOMAN WHO SHOT CREATOR PLEADS POVERTY, WORRY

Prisoner Tells of Daughter's Career. Dearly Bought.
Thwarted by Sight.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Poverty, debt and worry, caused by the fact that 23-year-old Patricia Davis became stricken with partial blindness after $2000 of borrowed money had been spent on her musical education, unbalanced the mind of her mother, Mrs. Mae Davis, and caused her to shoot Mrs. Elizabeth Britton, daughter of the woman to whom she owed the money.

This was the explanation given the police today by Mrs. Davis for her shooting of Mrs. Britton in the latter's apartment, 1875 Washington street, yesterday. Mrs. Britton, who says she is a sister-in-law of Congressman Fred A. Britton of Illinois, will recover from the two bullet wounds in her head, physicians said today. Mrs. Davis is being held by the police, to whom she surrendered soon after the shooting.

PLANS TUMBLE.
Mrs. Davis told the police that she had been divorced seven years ago from Harry Davis, business manager of the Will King show, and that this had left her with but little means of support. She borrowed $2000 and sent her daughter, Patricia, to the Menlo Park convent to study music. She counted on the proceeds from her daughter's professional work later to support the two of them, and pay back the borrowed money.

The young woman was declared to have a brilliant career ahead of her. But when she was almost ready to embark upon it, her eyes failed and it was impossible for her to go on with her music, or with any other occupation.

Mrs. Davis gradually sold her personal possessions, she said. She tried to obtain work, but for the most part was unsuccessful. There were many times, she said, when she and her daughter did not eat. Things became so bad that she thought of killing herself and her daughter.

CRAZED BY WORRIES.
To obtain a respite from her financial troubles, she borrowed $375 from Mrs. Charles Peach, Mrs. Britton's mother, on a promissory note. This note became due yesterday, and Mrs. Davis had promised to meet Mrs. Peach at a downtown bank and effect a settlement, although she did not have the money.

Instead of going to meet Mrs. Peach, she took her revolver and started for Golden Gate Park to kill herself. On her way she decided to stop in at Mrs. Peach's apartment and leave word with her daughter, Mrs. Britton, that she could not pay the money. Mrs. Britton denied this. The phone rang, and she knew from Mrs. Britton's part in the conversation that Mrs. Peach was telling her that Mrs. Davis had failed to meet her at the bank.

Mrs. Davis jumped to her feet. "You're driving me crazy," she cried out, and fired twice with her revolver.

GIVES SELF UP.
At once she became cool. She permitted Mrs. Britton to take the revolver away from her. As Mrs. Britton went to wash her wounds Mrs. Davis quietly left the apartment. She went to the office of Attorney Joseph McInerney and told him what had happened. On his advice, she went with him to police headquarters and surrendered herself.

OAKLAND GIRLS
ELOPE; SECRET
SOON LEAKS OUT

Although two Oakland girls and their fiancés went all the way to Santa Cruz yesterday to get married, and then returned as though nothing had happened, they failed to keep their elopement a secret from their parents for more than a few hours.

The two girls were Ruth Pardee, 18, of 520 Twentieth street, and Madeline Shuller, 19, of Thirty-first and Myrtle streets, both graduates of Oakland High school with last year's class. The bridegrooms are, respectively, Edward Shuller, 26 years old, and Willard Gray, 22.

The party of four went for an automobile trip yesterday afternoon, returning home late last night. This morning both girls left their homes as usual for their places of employment in San Francisco. This morning Mrs. John W. Pardee received a message to the effect that a marriage license had been issued to her daughter in Santa Cruz yesterday, and that the two couples had been married there.

Mrs. Pardee said, "but it's going to surprise Ruth when she gets home and finds that we know all about it."

TUBERCULOSIS BUILDING PLAN GOES FORWARD

Structure On the Livermore Farm for Children to Be Started Soon.

Relying upon funds which will be realized from the sale this fall of Christmas stamps, coupled with the money they secured from last year's sales, the Alameda County Tuberculosis Association, today continued their plans for the new building at the Del Valle farm at Livermore. The building will be for children whose physical condition gives indication of tubercular tendencies. A resolution, calling for bids on construction of the building was adopted by the board of supervisors in session yesterday at the court house, and plans were presented by Roscoe D. Jones, chairman of the Del Valle farm committee of the association. The plans were drawn by Architect Henry H. Meyers.

All Columbia Records are now made by the new process

EVERY Columbia Record made since the Columbia new process was perfected, has been constructed with the super-quiet new surface.

Not only has this added musical charm been given to the rich symphonic selections, but also to the songs of the hour, the latest dance music, and the always dear old-fashioned melodies.

Never since the phonograph was invented have the music-loving public been able to listen to phonographic music so nearly like the original in unmarred melody, so delightfully free from the scratch and scrape of needle noise.

This never-before-known surface quietness results from the Columbia process of constructing a hard centre core overlaid with a material of such exquisite smoothness that the noise of needle friction is never created.

As an example of this great musical accomplishment go to any Columbia Dealer and ask to hear record A-3831. It is "Peggy Dear," one of the latest fox-trots, gloriously played by the Happy Six. It is like listening to the orchestra itself.
And as you listen, note the absence of that old, irritating grinding sound of the needle.

All Columbia New Process Records are equally delightful. They can be played on any phonograph.

The Columbia process is patented. Only in Columbia New Process Records can you secure this perfect reproduction of perfect music.

BLIND JUNIOR VISITS IDORA

Celebrating the securing of an appropriation from the legislature that will be used for new buildings at the State school for the Blind in Berkeley, 100 children from the primary and grammar grades at the school held a picnic at Idora Park today.

A special program by radio was presented for them in the new Radio Amphitheater at the park. A detachment from the culinary department of the school prepared lunch at the park for the children.

Frederick W. Stobbe, instructor, was chairman in charge of arrangements for the picnic and with Dr. Richard S. French, principal of the school, the following instructors attended their groups of students: H. C. Harter, Miss Hazel Pye, Miss Lillian B. Johnson, Miss Mary Lester, D. K. Jenks, Miss Mary Eason, Mrs. A. E. Upshire, Miss Ellen Ord, Dr. and Mrs. N. Perry, F. W. Coshaw and G. N. Natt.

Things they Ask the Tribune

"Which would be heavier—a cubic yard of wet sand or a cubic yard of dry sand?"

The wet sand would be heavier, because you would have both the weight of the water and the sand. "Will you please tell me of a dressing that will restore a tan cowhide bag that has become soiled and worn—something that will not rub off on the clothing?"

From Scientific American: "To Restore Bags, Dressing Cases, etc.: Water 2 quarts; chip logwood, 7 1/2 ounces; sugar, 1 ounce; genuine gum arabic, 8 ounces; solution of sulphate of iron; methyl alcohol. Put the water and logwood chips into a copper boiler or cauldron, and let the water boil until reduced one-half in bulk. Then stir in the sugar and gum; when they are dissolved stir in sufficient of the sulphate of iron solution to color the mixture a brown color of the solution to assume a plum or bluish tint. Then add the alcohol, and after a few days strain off for use. Apply one or more coats of this solution to the shabby leather, and it will be like the grain of the leather is very much abraded or rubbed off, a final coat of a spirit gloss of lacquer will restore the new appearance of the bag, or whatever the article may be.

"Please tell me the proportion of cornmeal and gasoline to use for cleaning white woolen goods, and how to use it?"

Stir the garment in gasoline for several hours or overnight; then take out, and where there are solid spots, cover with a paste made by taking cornmeal and gasoline (a cup of cornmeal to half a cup of gasoline); take a brush and rub these places well. The cornmeal will help remove the dirt thus dissolved by the gasoline. Naptha solution that may be purchased from any drug store is also good to use with gasoline for cleaning.

"Please tell me a quick method of removing warts."

Use pure cinnamon oil. Put on, full strength, every day for a week, then twice a week. The wart will then begin to get a sort of hard crust over it, which it will be necessary to prick with a sterilized needle before giving it the cinnamon oil treatment. This method has been known to cure warts where all other methods fail. Get cinnamon oil from any drug store.

Driver of Taxicab Accused of Robbery

J. R. Keena, who claims that he was beaten and robbed of $50 by a taxi driver, is being held in the city prison on a charge of drunkenness. He was arrested early this morning by Policeman G. A. Lullmet at Honkine street and Park.

The policeman says he saw a taxicab stop several blocks away from him. He then heard a man scream for help. When he reached the man, the taxi had been driven away. When Keena could not tell a clear story, the officer placed him under arrest.

What's Happening in the Motor World

The roads through the valley are in wonderful condition and it is a straight shoot all the way to Oregon and then on to Portland, according to word brought back by H. T. Darnley of the Pennzell Company, who made the run there last week in the interests of this concern.

"The road is completely paved to Redding with concrete and is in fine condition," states Darnley. "From Redding north to Dorena there is a good dirt road that allows good speed, but is slippery in wet weather."

"From Dunsuir to Weed the road is paved with concrete and from Weed to Gazelle there is a good dirt road. From Gazelle to Yreka there is a detour, which is in fair shape and from there on to the California-Oregon line is a dirt road which joins the paved road in Oregon which leads all the way through to Portland."

"The detour ten miles this side of Yreka will be eliminated before summer travel becomes heavy. They are working on it now and will have it open soon."

RUHR PEACE PROI AGAIN FORECAST AS BEING NEAR

Negotiations for Settlement,

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A settlement of the Ruhr crisis between France and Germany is now for the first time in sight, it was learned here today on high authority.

Negotiations between the two countries to end the Ruhr situation, believed by many to threaten again the peace of Europe, may be expected in the near future, according to diplomatic advisers.

FOUND; FEUD IN FAMILY HEALING

NEWBURG, N. C., April 20.—(By International News Service.)—A separation suit in the supreme court here was expected today to be halted and domestic felicity restored between Morgan Van Tassel and his wife as the result of a telegram which brought to an end a two-year countrywide search for the 8-year-old daughter of the couple.

Four years ago, the child, Clara, was kidnapped and Jacob and Minnie Wilson, brother-in-law and sister of Mrs. Van Tassel, accused of the crime. Search for the girl was futile. Meanwhile, domestic troubles between Mr. and Mrs. Van Tassel reached such a stage that action for a separation was instituted.

Yesterday a brief telegram was received by Mrs. Van Tassel from officials at Glendale, Cal., a suburb of Los Angeles, stating that little Clara had been found and the Wilsons arrested.

Proposed from Germany to France is looked for within a month and settlement is expected soon after that.

U. C. ELECTION CALLED INVALID BY COMMITTEE

New Ballot for President of Students Ordered;
Lockhart Quits.

BERKELEY, April 20.—A political "scandal," which has divided the Berkeley campus into rival camps, developed at the University of California today with an announcement by the executive committee of the Associated Students that an election held Wednesday for students is "illegal" because students from the College Farm at Davis cast their ballots.

New elections for all student body and class officers have been ordered for Monday on the campus. Russell C. Lockhart of Los Angeles, who won the student body presidency from William Monahan of Redding by three votes, has declared that he will not be a candidate at a second election. Friends of Lockhart charge that Monahan was the favored candidate of campus politicians and declare that the statement of the illegality of the election comes because he was not elected.

Members of the executive committee of the Associated Students base their ruling as to the validity of the election on the fact that students at Davis have not heretofore been defined technically as regular "registered students" at the University of California. They declare that action was taken only after numerous complaints as to the election's alleged irregularities were made to them.

Lockhart is an agricultural student, and practically the entire vote from Davis went to him. Without this vote, Monahan would have been chosen by 79 ballots for the presidency.

Announcement of the call for a new election on the campus was made after an all-night session of the executive committee. Immediately after the announcement, Lockhart declared he would not be a party to the "traffic" employed and said he would withdraw from campus politics rather than be mixed in the controversy.

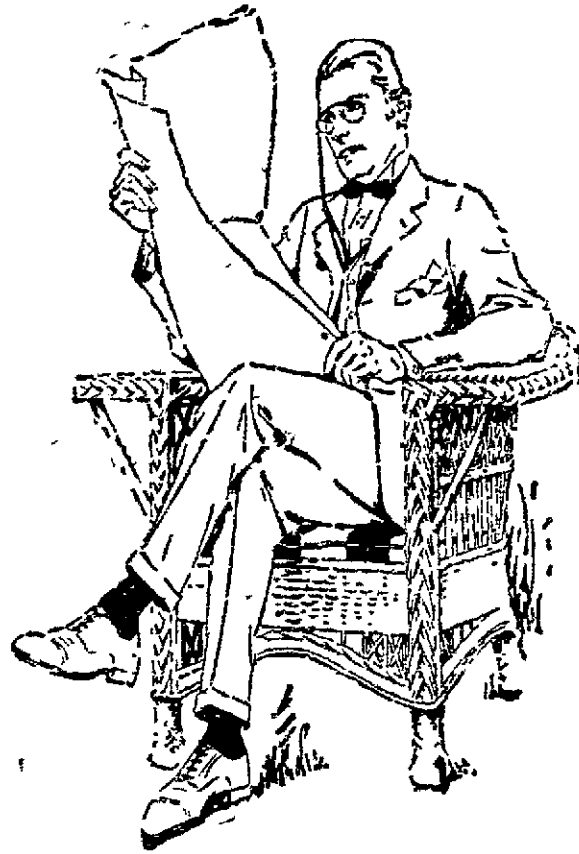

After issuing the call for a new election, the executive committee voted formally to establish polling places not only at the farm school at Davis, but also at the dental college in San Francisco. The fact that this was never legally done before, it is declared by the executive committee, caused Wednesday's election to be discarded as "illegal." Such action, the committee announces, was taken to place the election on a definite basis and to assure the solidarity and unified support of the student body to the successful candidate in the coming election.

Have You a Chicken Ranch Complex?

No—it is not the scientific name for Roup.

You need not start on a large scale. A small pen in the back yard is both interesting and worth all of the time spent on it. While prices are soaring, how satisfying to partake of the succulent egg at breakfast!

About fourteen hens of good laying stock are sufficient to supply the average family with eggs, which are a daily necessity in the kitchen of any good cook. And do not ever forget that chicken itself is always more than acceptable when served in any form.

WORK STARTS ON WATER CONDUIT IN NILES CANYON

Connecting Link Will Finish
Permanent Flume For Spring Valley Co.

NILES, April 20.—Work has been started on a two mile section of the concrete water flume belonging to the Spring Valley Water company in Niles Canyon, according to reports coming from the office of Wallace Ebright, superintendent of this district. T. W. Espy, of Pleasanton, is in charge of the construction on the new unit that will replace the wooden conduit now in use.

Camp for a crew of men has been established near Niles while the work of surveying the route for the conduit and other preliminary work is being completed. Close to 150 men will be employed in the work as soon as actual construction is started, Ebright says. Operations will be carried on from both ends of section to be constructed, according to Espy's present plans. The new link will complete a permanent waterduct for the company through the canyon, and will have twice the capacity of the present wooden flume. Six months is the estimate made by Espy of the time that will be required to complete the project. During the work water will be turned into the creek bed and picked up again below the Niles end of the new section.

LOCAL DRINK PARLOR CLOSED YEAR BY COURT

Part of the premises at 833 Broadway yesterday were ordered closed for a year by Federal Judge Bourquin under abatement proceedings because of purported violations there of the Volstead act. Warren Jack, John Smith and Mike Moran were named as operators of the premises, while the realty is owned by Helen P. Wither, William V. Wither, Jr., and others.

ENGINEERS MAKE NEW SHIP OFFER

NEW YORK, April 20.—The marine Engineers Beneficial Association last night submitted a new offer to purchase three Shipping Board vessels after Chairman A. D. Lasker of the board had rejected their original bid of $300,000. The association offered to deposit $90,000 as a guarantee fund and operate the vessels until an arbitrary price is fixed.

The association proposed leaving the price to an executive committee of the next Congress. It also proposed taking over the ships at once and operating them without interference by the Shipping Board with the understanding that the balance of the agreed purchase price would be paid within one year of the date of delivery.

The offer was made on receipt of a letter from Chairman Lasker pointing out that the original offer of $100,000 for each of the three ships approximated only one-third of the lowest sales price set on the vessels by the board. The government's minimum price, Lasker wrote, was $20 per deadweight ton, on ships of the type of the steamers Pomona, Hanley and Hannawa sought by the association.

The association, in the counter offer, agreed to assume any losses of principal or interest. The profits would be divided equally between the operating company and application toward the purchase price. The vessels, the offer continued, would remain insured by the Shipping Board, which also would take care of repairs or latent defects.

The proposal also revealed that the association would name seven other vessels to be purchased on the same terms, giving a total of 10 vessels as a nucleus of a contemplated fleet of 110 ships for ocean, coastwise and lake trade.

COMMUNITY CHEST WORKERS REPORT HIGHER SUBSCRIPTIONS

COMPANY WITH 31 EMPLOYEES SETS AVERAGE AT $10

Piedmont Takes the Lead of Districts With 90 Per Cent of Quota Raised.

Subscriptions to Oakland's Community Chest fund for 24 hours ending at noon today mounted to $27,530.

The entire amount now available for charitable purposes totals $123,652. The drive has been in progress three days.

At the workers' luncheon at the Hotel Oakland today it was announced that the Piedmont district team, captained by Mrs. Wallace Alexander, had gone over the top. Piedmont's quota was set at $18,000.

A feature of the day's work was found in the fact that the employees of Oakland are maintaining an exceptionally high per capita subscription. One firm employing 31 men is represented by a per capita subscription of $6.14, while another firm employing 31 scored the per capita record of $10.

In the downtown districts, Louis Scheeline, of E. A. Lee, is leading in contributions. Scheeline is colonel of the uptown retail district, with a quota of $80,000, and has already obtained more than one-third of this amount. Lee's district has turned in a similar proportion.

Attorney Charles H. Seecombe was the speaker at today's luncheon and said in part:

"The Community Chest is the application of commonsense and sound business organization to the relief and welfare work of the community. It is co-operation of all the people in the great effort to raise the funds sufficient to maintain the work for one year of the various relief and welfare organizations. It is the elimination of the many drives scattered at various intervals throughout the year and the directing of thought and attention of all the people once a year upon the work of public welfare."

"The Community Chest is an incorporated body of representative citizens, having its budget committee whose duty it is to pass upon the work and needs of the various relief and welfare organizations which seek to benefit the community. From two such organizations are upon the accredited list of our own Community Chest. The budget has been carefully prepared by the committee and the various amounts apportioned to the applicants in proportion to their showing of work done and for the last three years and estimate of needs for the current year. The Community Chest, therefore, comes before the people of this community as the last work in organized charitable effort."

"It is no experiment. The Community Chest is functioning successfully in more than one hundred American cities. The cost of raising the money necessary for the maintenance of the various relief organizations in these cities, has been reduced by the Community Chest plan from an average of 15 per cent to 5 per cent. In addition, the number of subscribers to relief work has been increased and the gifts of large contributors have suffered no decrease."

"The Community Chest, therefore, means economy of effort, of money, of time and of the patience and good nature of the 'march' tagged public."

"A careful reading of the list of organizations that have been accepted as participants in the Community Chest by the budget committee is a revelation to the average busy citizen. By a visit to the various institutions on the Community Chest tours brings home to the heart the appeal of this work. Children who are defective are gathered into hospitals for medical attention. Mothers are taught the divine art of motherhood. Babies are given proper nursing and care. The unmarried mother is given a refuge and her babe a loving welcome. Tubercular patients and children predisposed to that dread disease are cared for. The aged and homeless and penniless are helped. Still other aspects of this great work are boy scouts and campfire girls, young men and young women are encouraged in mastering and living the principles of citizenship. "So it is the Community Chest appeals to us as the outward expression of neighborliness and pressed in the strong helping the weak, the mature encouraging the young, the prosperous lending a hand to those less fortunate."

"And this is a great work. It is something bigger and worthier than the bitternotion of charity as a work of pity. This is no handout. This is the work of a great people building a great city. Ships flying to and fro, railroads, factories, stores, banks, office buildings, hotels, homes, these are a part only of the city life. They are inseparable elements in the building of a great city. But they are not all. The welfare of the people of the city is of supreme importance. And we build a city of the elements we find at hand. The people who are here—strong, weak, healthy, sick, mature, aged and babes—all these elements we build into the city beautiful, as we work together to promote the welfare of all. For at heart is a large family. In the family the strength of the father, the watchful care of the mother, are thrown around the babe, the child, the elderly grandparent in the home in a true community interest. The Community Chest is the outward expression on a large scale of that community of interest and common welfare, which are the heart and life of every city.

He Dug Deep for the Community Chest

"The city of Oakland is facing great things today. A metropolis is being built where a group of little cities have been. To us is given the duty and the high privilege of building such a city."

POLICE CHIEFS URGE PASSAGE OF JURY BILL

Three-fourths Verdict Proposed Except in Death Penalty Cases.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, April 20.—The three-quarters jury bill, sponsored by the Crime Commission of Los Angeles which has passed the Senate, will be taken up within a few days on the floor of the Assembly. This bill provides that a jury may convict in criminal cases, except those involving the death sentence, on a vote of three-fourths of its membership.

Telegrams urging them to vote in favor of the bill have been received by the Alameda County legislators from Chief of Police James Drew of Oakland; Harrison Robinson, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Commissioner Frank Colburn, Chief August Vollmer of Berkeley, and others. Drew's telegram says: "Urge your support of three-fourths jury bill. This legislation will tend to curb crime in California."

Harrison Robinson wired: "Three-fourths jury bill is step in right direction in efforts being made to curb crime. In favoring this bill I believe many people here and throughout the State are anxious for opportunity to vote on this amendment."

Commissioner Colburn wired: "Three-fourths jury would greatly assist in combating crime. Urge your support of this bill, as people should have opportunity to vote on this important and vital legislation."

A preliminary survey of the sentiment of the House would seem to indicate that the Assembly will vote down the measure, despite a majority of the members appear to hold the opinion that in the interest of personal liberty the jury system should not be changed.

APPOINTMENTS ASSISTANT.

RICHMOND, April 20. — Postmaster James N. Long yesterday named Paul H. Wagner assistant postmaster, vice R. H. Kinney, resigned. Kinney will go into private business. The appointee is a veteran in the postal service.

Tabulation Shows Chest Drive Subscriptions Mount

"Being a young and robust city," opines Max Horwinski, a local business man. Oakland should have a Community Chest expansion sufficient to menace every button on her best frock."

The handwriting on the wall at the Community Chest headquarters, Seventeenth and Franklin streets, where subscriptions for the city's welfare fund are piling up at an astonishing rate, indicating the success the community charity plan has met here, comes pretty close to fulfilling Horwinski's prediction.

The handwriting is the record of the various teams of men and women who are collecting the traditional where-with-all to fill the chest.

WOMEN GOOD SOLICITORS.

So far the most alarming point to be gleaned from the figures embodied in this all-important record is that women are more prolific than men in prying money out of a more or less willing public.

Mrs. Wallace Alexander, heading the team which is canvassing Piedmont, reported at the luncheon yesterday that her group had subscribed 80 per cent of its $18,000, the best percentage of any team in the race.

C. A. A. McGee, who spoke yesterday at the Community Chest luncheon, is sold so solidly on the chest idea that he calls it "an investment and insurance."

Marr Wong, "colonel" of the Community Chest army, that is storming the financial walls of Oakland's Peking, has obtained $45 thus far but he isn't discouraged.

"Pretty soon we catch 'em," said Wong stoutly.

"It will take 40,000 gloves to put the Community Chest campaign over in this city." Thus H. C. Cargill epitomizes the situation.

PIEDMONT WILL HELP.

Piedmont has no charity agencies of its own, so we are only glad to be able to help in this work in Oakland," said Mrs. Alexander, whose team has subscribed over $15,000 in that city.

There is a joker in the pack from the standpoint of employer and employee, according to information made public today.

"Thank goodness the old man is getting nicker," is the collective were called on the motion to adopt the report and amendments offered by Wright. Fox voted aye. Hornblower refused to vote; Hawes was still absent. That gave a total of 38 ayes and 39 noes, and the speaker declared the motion lost.

HOUSE TANGLES IN DEADLOCK ON BUDGET CHANGE

ADJOURNMENT FINALLY ARRANGED

Carter, administration floor leader, then moved to expunge the record so far as the last motion, and all proceedings under the call of the house were concerned. This was done, 42 to 8. Wright then moved that the budget be made a special order for 11 o'clock Monday. That was ordered. Then Carter moved to adjourn until noon today, and that was carried.

The net result of all this was to leave Wright's amendments adopted, but not finally written into the bill, and to give them right of way for further consideration Monday.

This arrangement made certain that there would be only brief sessions of the two legislative houses today. There will be no committee work tonight, and tomorrow the legislature will visit Napa, omitting its usual sessions.

SUGAR SUIT IS 'DILITIGAL' CIV EXCHANGE MEN

Council for Men Sued Says Government Has Not Won Suit Yet

NEW YORK, April 20. (By International News Service).—"A political gesture of no significance," was the estimate today of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, Inc., and the Sugar Clearing Association of the government's suit to restrain the two organizations from further operations in sugar.

William M. Smith, the exchange's counsel, said today the exchange "would be ready to defend itself from the government's motion for an injunction when the matter comes up for hearing, April 30."

Defending the government's suit as a mere complaint that the exchange "quoted figures of transactions in sugar and that these figures were telegraphed to all parts of the country and thereby affected the price of sugar," Smith declared that every exchange, "coffee, grain and stock, could be closed under the same argument."

"The fact that the attorney-general has begun a suit does not mean his requests will be granted," Smith said. "It remains to be seen whether the judicial department of the government will do what the executive branch desires."

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Whether criminal prosecutions by the federal government will follow its injunction suit filed in New York yesterday to protect the public against the speculative boosting of sugar prices rests on the decision of Attorney General Daugherty.

The attorney general who is now at Asheville, N. C., was said officially today to have under consideration a request upon the federal grand jury in New York for criminal indictment, under the conspiracy provisions of the Sherman act, of defendants named in the injunction suit to prevent future speculative trading on the New York sugar exchange.

Criminal action against defendants named in the injunction suit against the New York coffee and sugar exchange and the New York Coffee and Sugar Clearing Association, Inc., should the attorney general decide the evidence warrants such procedure on conspiracy charges, would be the logical next step, officials explained, in the government's procedure.

In its unprecedented attempt to stop speculation on a commodity exchange by invoking the anti-trust laws, the government, it was said, probably would take still another line of attack in connection with its civil suit. It is proposed to ask the court for an order to prevent settlements in speculative trades between brokers and customers, since February, it was said, thus striking at the profits of speculators.

As another development in the sugar situation, President Harding had before him today a report from the tariff commission which found that the duties in the new tariff act were not a factor in the recent increase of sugar prices. While evidence indicated, the report said, that the import duty on Cuban raw sugars has been, and is now, reflected in the wholesale and retail prices of granulated sugar, the commission held that if the

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the hundred Chinese members of the Chinese Merchants' association look sanguinely forward to returning home from their annual outing at Bear Mountain, up the Hudson, next July with all their watches at the ends of their chains and their purses in their respective pockets.

No white man has been invited to attend the outing.

This was announced today by one of the prominent members, Mr. Lee Tse, who explained:

"Two years ago, plenty white men go along with Chinese up the Hudson, to have good play time. What happen. Plenty pocketbook, plenty money, plenty watches can find in pocket of Chinese when come back. So last year we say no white man without card from association can come play. Better but not all right. Ninety-seven watches missing. So now, this year, no white man come long. That more better. Maybe keep watches."

YOUTH, FATHER IN CHIN BATTLE

EL PASO, Tex., April 20.—Jacob Aaron, 13-year-old son of Isaac C. Martin, who resides near Fort Sumner, N. M., is near death with five or six bullet wounds in his body. His father is shot through the neck, but will recover, according to a message received here yesterday by Miss Canine Martin, sister of the wounded man. D. J. Joyner, friend of the Martin family, sent the news to Miss Martin.

"The father sent the boy to school," related Joyner on the telephone. "He would not go. His father started to whip him, and the boy shot him. The father then shot the boy five or six times. This is the story gleaned by officers who are investigating the tragedy."

Y. M. C. A. MAKES GREAT GAIN IN INDIAN WORK

Worker Visiting Here Tells of Difficulties That Are Encountered.

Immense strides have been made by the Y. M. C. A. in the Punjab of India, where the fate of Christianity in the Orient rests in the proper method of presentation rather than the character of the teachings, is the declaration of A. L. Miller, for many years general secretary at Lahore, India, who is an Oakland visitor.

"I am firmly convinced that we cannot give Christianity an Occidental setting in formal Occidental buildings with stiff seats and stained-glass windows and make any great headway in India," he said.

The greatest success in India is being made by the Indian leaders of Christianity who are traveling through this great land, preaching in the open. They are presenting Christianity in a way that the natives understand.

Miller says the Y. M. C. A. at Lahore is the most popular Christian headquarters in the Punjab, where 33,000,000 persons live. The Y. M. C. A. has adapted itself to Indian conditions.

The Indian youth, according to Miller, have taken to American games with "alacrity." They play every game but baseball which they do not like.

During his visit to Oakland and the Bay district Miller has made several talks on conditions in India. He appeared before the Masonic club in San Francisco and spoke at Richmond and San Jose.

Son May Now Gain Estate Once Lost

An unusual situation prevails in the estate of Mrs. Christine Wilhelmson, who died July 5, 1919, due to discovery that she and her husband, made a joint will Nov. 5, 1915, which was probated when the husband, Hans Christian Wilhelmson, died in 1919.

This will left the estate, valued at less than $10,000, to the one who survived the other and specifically declared that nothing was to go to William Wilhelmson of Los Angeles, a son of Hans but not of his wife.

When Hans Wilhelmson died, Hans Larsen of San Leandro was appointed executor but he has never done anything with the estate, according to Albert E. Hill, public administrator, who has filed a petition to be appointed special administrator of the estate. In the opinion of Walter Ellissen, attorney for Hill, the son now has a right to half of the estate, despite the terms of the joint will.

Candyman Given Clean-Up Sentence

Henry M. Lickes, a candy maker, who is charged with violating the pure food sanitation act, was today given seven days to clean up by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell. He was informed by the court that the factory must make with the approval of G. B. Heger, state pure food inspector, after it has been cleaned, or that he would be given a full sentence. The case was continued until April 25.

A complaint was filed on April 7. In the complaint it alleges that there were no towels to use after washing, door not properly screened; machinery for making candy was uncovered and was allowed to become filthy from grease, dirt and dust. The factory, according to court records, is located at Seventh and Market streets.

The suit asks that legal custody of their child, Cynthia, aged 1 1/2, be placed with Mrs. Nellie G. Tharinger, mother of the wife. The suit declares there is no common property.

PHYSICIAN IS MISSING; DRAWS MONEY AT BANK

Aged Doctor Fails to Return Home; Daughter Finds
He Met Foul Play.

Marshall T. Moore, a retired physician, 33 years old, at 2049 Forty-first avenue, dropped from sight Wednesday afternoon after he had drawn $150 from his bank and removed certain documents from his safe deposit box. Relatives fear the aged man met with foul play at the hands of thugs who saw him draw the money. Miss F. L. Moore, a daughter, today enlisted the aid of the police in the search for her father.

When Moore left his home for a walk Wednesday afternoon he wore a brown hat, a black overcoat and a gray suit. He has a Knight Templar charm on his watch chain with his name engraved upon it. He has gray hair, blue eyes, a small moustache and beard, and there is a prominent mole on his forehead. His height is about 5 feet 8 inches. His daughter reported that he had recently recovered from a serious illness and was subject to an occasional lapse of reason. It was his custom to take a walk every afternoon and sometimes he would come home late.

Miss Moore said it was possible that he had attempted to return to Michigan, where in his active days he enjoyed a large medical practice, but she fears that he may have been harmed by thugs who followed him from the bank.

Says Wife Married Only For Property

That Mrs. G. A. Dyer deserted him April 16 because he wouldn't deed his property to her, declaring that she had only married him for that purpose, is the declaration of Thomas B. Dyer, in a suit for divorce on file in the Superior Court. In his wife while in a rage, and when she left him, declared it shouldn't have the property he would go to the bad place. The couple lived together only two and a half months, the marriage taking place January 31, 1923.

He Is Missing MARSHAL T. MOORE, retired his home Wednesday afternoon.

DATES FOR PLAY WEEK ARE GIVEN

The week of April 21 to 28 has been made National Play Week by the Playground and Recreation Association of America, and all American cities are asked to celebrate.

"To imbue everyone with the spirit of play—to make them see the place in the life of the community—to create new and recreate old interest—this is the purpose of National Play Week. Everyone should have an opportunity to participate in some play activity during the week, and the week should be a program of activity for the planning and carrying out of the week's program," so says a suggestive bulletin from the association.

Special programs are being prepared on many of the Oakland playgrounds. These will be published from day to day, telling where the games are to be seen.

Utility District Will Be Discussed

CREWS ARE READY FOR ANNUAL COLLEGE RACE ON ESTUARY

ATHLETIC AUTHORITIES AT PALO ALTO RULE STAR SPRINTER INELIGIBLE TO ENTER EVENTS

Rival Eights Ready to Race; Weights Even

Both Coaches Sound Cry of "On to Poughkeepsie" if Victorious.

There appears to be little to choose between California and Washington in the annual dual three mile race on the Oakland estuary tomorrow. The two eights completed their training yesterday and spent today resting up for the test of strength and skill on the morrow.

Scheduled to start at 9:35, the rival eights crews will pull to the starting mark at the Webster street bridge shortly before 9:30, each confident of their ability to defeat the other.

WALLIS CONFIDENT.

Coach Wallis appeared confident this morning that his crew would repeat their win of 1921, the last time the crews raced on the local course, and make up for the defeat of last year in the north.

Coach Callow had no statement to issue regarding his opinion other than to remark, "Washington's men will do their best. It may not be good enough to beat California but one will know they have been in a race. But watch the lucky freshmen."

Old time crew followers who have seen the University of Washington rowing crews in action for nearly two decades have placed their stamp of approval upon the 1923 Purple and Gold eights. Coach Russell (Bus.) Callow wound up the preliminary training season in a pessimistic mood and has predicted that California will win.

Observers who have watched the Washington crewmen in their daily workout decide the crew fully as powerful as last year's men, and that the men have achieved nearly the same smoothness and perfection of stroke.

While times for practice spins over the three miles were not given out, it was known that in the last few workouts the shell covered the three miles in near record fashion.

ON TO POUGHKEEPSIE. Ben Wallis, rowing coach of the University of California, will send his crew in the race against the University of Washington with one parting shot "Beat Washington and we'll win again at Poughkeepsie."

The California coach, however, admits the idea of defeating the Huskies from the north is more easily said than done despite the statement of Coach Russell Callow that his Washingtonians can win only by the skin of their teeth.

"The variety crew will race in 'The Bear' this year, its new shell, the old stand-by, 'The Californian,' going to the California freshmen."

Stanford Faculty Not to Allow Star Sprinter in the Annual Big Meet.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 20.—Unless the Stanford faculty committee on athletics experiences a sudden change of heart, Templeton will be minus the services of Eddie Sudden, winner of the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes in the Big Meet last year. Sudden partially completed registration in the university last Wednesday but either because of the attitude of the Stanford athletic authorities or because he had conscientious objections of his own, he has not gone further in a procedure which would qualify him on all counts for eligibility in the annual classic. It is solely on an ethical basis and not one of technicalities that the committee in charge of the matter have voiced its objection to Sudden's competition. As it now stands, if Stanford is able to win the meet from California without the services of Sudden, the fruits of victory will taste all the sweeter to Card fans.

The probable outcome of the dispute was assumed a new aspect yesterday when Jim Arthur, one of Templeton's best men in the weight events, threw out the platler 133 feet in a practice heave without fouling, as has been his habit. Only one out of 12 succeeding trials went under 125 feet. If he is able to perform thus consistently tomorrow, he may be counted upon as a sure second place and perhaps even a first. It has been his tendency to foul that has kept him out of the running in early season meets. A recent change of form under the coaching of Templeton is thought to be the reason for his sudden improvement.

Marshall Hale, Templeton's new sprinting star, seems to have regained enough of his strength so that he should be able to give both Sheppard and Farnsworth of California a good run in the two dashes. It is possible that Hale will not compete in the longer sprint, leaving the burden on the shoulders of Campbell, Clarke and Wright, or possibly Van Judah. Hale has been winning practically 100 yard dashes from Campbell since his return to the track last week and is thought to be in good shape for the shorter race.

Willie Kamm Gets a Couple Of Safe Hits

Willie Kamm, the Coast league star with the White Sox, fared better than Jimmy O'Connell, his old team mate, now with the Giants. Willie scored one run drove out two hits and sent one runner home. He also accepted four chances without a slip. Jimmy bagged one hit, captured one fly and stole a base.

With the strain of the opening games over for the season, teams of the National and American leagues got down to business today and started on their annual five months' grind.

Cleveland and the White Sox went eleven innings before the Indians finally gathered in the Chicago scalp.

Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers batted their way to victory over the St. Louis Browns.

It remained for the Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates to put on a slugging bee in the Nationals, the Cubs winning in a game featured by four home runs.

Brooklyn tried bravely to stage a ninth inning rally against Philadelphia and succeeded in putting over two runs, but not enough to win. The Cardinals and Cincinnati put on a heavy hitting contest, finally won by St. Louis.

Johnny Kelleher, of the Cubs, and Jimmy Dykes, of the Athletics, cracked out homers again yesterday, making a 1-1 tie for each in many days.

Rogers Hornsby crashed out three hits in four times at bat and two of them were triples.

Western League Mark Is Broken

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 20.—The season's Western League record was broken yesterday with twelve homers shown in the box scores. Seven were made at Wichita, four at Tulsa and one at Oklahoma City, bringing the season's total for the first week of play up to 50.

Heavyweights Congregate on Old Broadway

Floyd Johnson Will Meet F. Fulton at Jersey City Monday.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Just as water seeks its level, our esteemed heavyweight pugilists are about to gather in and around the happy hunting ground otherwise known as Broadway for the big payoff May 12. Jess Willard, as lean as the shank of a grasshopper, if the exhorters can be believed, is due here tomorrow and will hasten to the nearest scales so that all can behold and be comforted. Jack McCalliffe II is expected today. Senior Phipps, the well-known hummer, and Floyd Johnson, who may or may not meet Willard in the future. Lou of the milk fund show, are already here, having nothing better to do. Johnson finally has been granted permission to fight Fanny Frederick Fulton in Jersey City on Monday night, and may live to regret the fact. Frederick has an abiding romance for the horizontal position, but is always dangerous. The winner of the bout will go on with Willard, and our only concern is that the worst man loses. You never can tell when they are both bad.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHT RESULTS

MODESTO, April 20.—Freddie Bonillas of Los Banos, won a decision over young Papke of San Francisco here last night. Bonillas did all of the leading and out-stepped the way.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Ever Hammer, Chicago lightweight, was given a shade by newspapermen last night in his ten-round boxing match with Tommy O'Brien of Milwaukee here. PORTLAND, Ore., April 20.—Young Captain of San Jose, Cal., won a close ten-round decision over Johnny Tinalista, Portland lightweight here last night. Captain outboxed the local boy, landing two punches in the ninth round. Tinalista's punches carried more steam than those of his opponent. In a slow six-round windup Eddie Richards, Portland middleweight took the decision over Lee McArthur of Los Angeles. Frankie Graubert, Portland flyweight, gave Al Colvert of Tacoma, a bad beating in the other six-round bout.

TONG WAR LOOMS OVER ELOPEMENT

Husband Accuses Wife and Man Known As Notorious 'Suey' Killer, With Offense Involving Baby

Oakland police today took steps to prevent the outbreak of a new tong war. It was learned when Inspector Thomas Pardo appeared in Superior Judge T. W. Harris court, having in custody Wang Gin Lun, mother of eight children, whose alleged elopement with Willie Wong, said to be a 'Suey' gang man, is expected to be the basis of the reopening of the tong feud.

Wang Gin Lun was in court charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor child. The complaint was sworn to by her husband, Lim Sing, 418 Seventh street, who charges that on March 19, 1923, she left her home here in company with Willie Wong. She left seven children in her home and took with her one child, a five-month-old baby, it is alleged.

Wang Gin and Wong were arrested three days ago in San Francisco, where they were living as man and wife, according to the police.

FIRST CHARGE FAILED.

The arrest of the couple followed the husband's complaint charging the wife with grand larceny. He alleged that when she ran away with Wong she took some jewelry and money with her. It was shown at the preliminary examination in the police court that the money was community property and the jewelry was owned by Wang Gin. A dismissal of the charge resulted.

Lim Sing, the husband, immediately swore to a complaint against his wife for charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor child, the same charge being placed against Wong, who is held in the city prison.

Wang Gin was before Judge Harris, sitting for Judge E. C. Robinson, of the juvenile court, for arraignment. She entered a plea of not guilty. The preliminary examination was set for May 4, at 2 p. m.

Wang Gin was released from custody on her own recognizance on the understanding that she will remain at the Presbyterian Mission school until the day of trial. Miss E. V. Higgins, one of Miss Campbell's assistants, was in court during the arraignment, while the interpreting was done by Miss Lee, a teacher in the school. Both Miss Lee and Miss Higgins promised Judge Harris that they would have Wang Gin in court for the preliminary hearing.

WONG CALLED "BAD MAN."

Inspector Pardo, in discussing the situation, said:

"We have tightened up to prevent a new outbreak of the tong war. We know that Willie Wong is a notorious killer. In fact he is what is known as an outside man. His record is so bad that no tong will openly associate with him. However, whenever a particularly bad job is at hand Wong is called on. He works mainly for the Suey Sings.

"On the other hand, there is Lim Sing, the woman's husband. He denies that he is a tong member, but we have reason to believe that he is. Tong wars may start over many different things but the most bitter war of all is that in which a woman is involved. Therefore we are taking precautions to prevent trouble. We do not anticipate anything until Wong gains his freedom. At present he is in the city jail."

CITY FINE FOR GAMBLING ON TRAIN UPHELD

Holding that violations of the law committed on a train moving through a city are punishable under the laws of the city in question, a decision by Superior Judge George E. Samuels is on file today. The case was that of Harrington Stone and Thomas Thorensen, arrested on a Southern Pacific train in Berkeley, charged with gambling. They were fined $200 by Police Judge Robert Edgar and from this sentence took an appeal.

Judge Samuels sustained the ruling of the lower court, holding that the Berkeley city ordinance against gambling governed in the case inasmuch as the train, although moving, was within the city limits when the offense was committed.

Capwell Employees Give Two Playlets

Two playlets were presented by the Employees' Mutual Benefit Association of the H. C. Capwell Company last night before an audience composed of members of the association and their friends that filled Aahmes Temple.

The plays were staged under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Lamberson, educational director at Capwells, and the players were all members of the association.

Miss Lina Harris, well-known in local amateur theatrical circles, played the leading role in "Lady Betty's Burglar," an Elizabethan comedy. Others in the cast were Abe Cline and Charles Lalor.

A seaside comedy, "Relay on My Feet," was presented by the following players: Jennie Price, Marian Munro, William Maher, Frank McKenna, Barbara Bursik, John Bruzie, Blanche Bowdish, Dr. H. P. Kuttner and Abe Cline.

During the presentation of the plays, the music was furnished by the Capwell orchestra, consisting of Joe Caracciola, saxophone; R. Robinson, piano; Albert Caracciola, drums; and W. Clements, banjo.

BOOZE AND WINE FOUND BY RAIDERS

Stock of Liquors Valued At Several Hundred Dollars Confiscated by Dry Agents at 1612 San Pablo Avenue

Liquor valued at several hundred dollars was seized by federal officers today when they raided a soft drink parlor at 1612 San Pablo avenue. Thirteen bottles of Scotch whisky, a case of wine, two gallons of alcohol and several pints of whiskey was seized by the raiding officers.

The posse was headed by F. H. Cory, enforcement officer. Tom Genna, who was in charge of the place at the time, was charged with violating the national prohibition act. He was released on $500 cash bail on the order of United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie.

Joseph Ross, a farmer of Hayward, was arrested for violating the Federal Prohibition act. He was arrested by Enforcement Officers J. H. Vall and O. J. Johansson.

Five other men were arrested in four raids which were staged by Sergeant F. W. Brock of the Oakland police department. They were all charged with violating the Wright Act. A small quantity of Jackass brandy was seized as evidence. The names of the men who were arrested and the addresses of the soft drink parlors follow:

Cleveland Fagan, 601 Franklin street; Harry Wright, 733 Broadway; James W. Nichols, 527 Seventh street; and Daniel Baker, 736 Washington street.

Babies' Cries Send Four To Jail; Reveal Still

BERKELEY, April 20.—Because a mother's babies were crying for her, one man was sentenced today to serve six months in the county jail for bootlegging while two other men and a woman are under arrest charged with petty larceny as the result of the theft of building materials in Albany last night.

O. G. Johansson, his wife, Elis Johansson, and Edward B. Wolff, all residing at 1305 Ward street, were arrested by Officer Frank Davis of Albany at 10 o'clock last night in the alleged act of stealing shingles from a residence in course of construction on Pomona avenue. An automobile belonging to the Johanssons was found near the dwelling.

Taken to Berkeley police station the trio refused to disclose where they resided. Finally Mrs. Johansson broke down.

"My babies," she cried, "I must go to them."

Officers accompanied the three suspects to 1305 Ward street, the address given by them. There they found Clarence Perry, a boiler maker, a still and a large quantity of bootleg liquor and mash. All were taken to police station by Officer William Jack of Berkeley and Marshall John Glavinovich of Albany. This morning appearing before Judge Robert Edgar Perry admitted ownership of the still and the manufacture of liquor and was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Complaints charging Mr. and Mrs. Johansson and Wolff with larceny were sworn to by Officer Davis. The arrest of the trio is declared by the Albany authorities to come as the result of a long series of thefts of building materials from houses under construction in that city. Whether the trio under arrest are responsible for more thefts than the one with which they are charged has not been determined. Bail was fixed at $500 in each case.

TO SHIPPING, IS POSEY ARGUMENT

County Engineer Explains Great Gains by Bore Under Estuary.

Improvements on the Oakland waterfront will play the biggest part in inducing big shipping firms to locate on this side of the bay, George A. Posey, county engineer, declared in his address yesterday before members of the Mutual Business club at their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland.

"At the present time, special shipping interests do not care to take chances by moving their terminals to this side of the bay," Posey stated. "They can get all of their volume of business cared for on the San Francisco waterfront, but conditions show that crowded conditions are beginning."

"If Alameda county intends to

Two Arrested in Road House Raid

Maud Foster, a cafe entertainer, and C. A. Gray, owner of the Country Inn, a road house at San Pablo, were arrested by prohibition enforcement officers for the possession and sale of intoxicating liquors in a raid last night, according to United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie. The couple today filed bonds with $2,000 to appear before the federal court in San Francisco to answer charges of violation of the Volstead act.

Increase her shipping facilities, she will have to offer some inducement in order to attract business to this side of the bay. One of these inducements would be the construction of a tube under the estuary which will allow this strip of water to be open and unobstructed for traffic.

"A tube would make it possible to open the estuary up to Park street. This would mean that six additional miles above the bridges could be added to the docking and wharfing space of the waterfront. If this part of the waterfront is built up, it will mean that there will be sufficient space to care for all the shipping that is now handled in the San Francisco waterfront."

ADVANTAGES OF WATER DISTRICT

Experiences of Other Cities Cited, Needs of Eastbay Outlined.

Former City Attorney Frank V. Cornish of Berkeley, speaking at the Golden Gate Improvement club in Oakland last night, outlined some of the advantages to the Eastbay community to come from the organization of a water supply district for obtaining a water supply.

Cornish said that the combined population of the nine cities to be included was close to 770,000, and that the district has an assessed valuation of about $2,000,000.

"The district is to be elected," said Cornish, "to receive $20 a month for their services. This board will appoint a general manager, secretary, treasurer and auditor. The district is to be conducted under the plan of the city manager system of government. It is necessary that the project carry in Oakland if the district is to be formed."

TWO-THIRDS VOTE.

"No utility can be acquired without a two-thirds vote of the people in the district and only because produces utility service can works be constructed or acquired for the conduct of the utility. It gives the same power to the district in this regard which every city in it now has, but it enables the people of the district to act as a unit in dealing with the water question. The cities cannot do in acquiring water if they act independently under their municipal governments. It is because it is so easy to go outside for a new supply and no one city can tackle the job alone."

Cornish gave figures compiled from 72 cities including 70 of the largest cities of the United States. Of these 72 cities, according to Cornish, 42 have municipal owned water works, 10 have private owned water works, and 20 have no water works.

Thirty of these cities have known ownership for more than 10 years and no city has returned to private ownership after trying public ownership. The average daily per capita consumption of water of the 64 cities is 120 gallons; in the Eastbay cities it is 65 gallons.

CHEAP SUPPLY NEEDED.

"What we need is an abundant supply of cheap water for homes, for industry and for our business," said Cornish. "We are being disturbed by Los Angeles, where water costs one-third of what it does here and unless we get busy and solve this problem this community is not going to be able to keep in with the progress of our neighbors. Whether we get in line or not will be answered on Tuesday, May 1, at the Water District election."

A charge of vagrancy against Vera Powell, a dancer, found at the cafe, has been dismissed.

By "O. Henry" Just Dug Up

HOUSTON, Texas, April 20.—One of the greatest literary discoveries in years came to light here today when hundreds of sparkling stories, burlesques, poems and whimsies from the pen of "O. Henry" America's famous short story writer, were found in the files of a local newspaper. These writings of the famous humorist had lain buried in the files for twenty-five years.

During a period of eight months, from October 1895, to June, 1896, William Sidney Porter, later to become the great "O. Henry," wrote a daily column for a local newspaper, into which he poured, lavishly and carelessly, the first budding sprouts of his natural story-telling genius.

His column was called at first, "Tales of the Town," and afterward "Postscripts and Pencilings" and "Some Postscripts." Here, in a profusion of sketches, burlesque stories, verses and whimsical paragraphs, is revealed that sharp observation of life combined with the wizard sense of its humorous and tragic contrasts that not long afterward was to express itself in short stories which took the world by storm.

It was an exceptional column, because, aside from the genius of its author, it was made up not so much of the brief paragraph of temporary interest only, as it was of the little story or yarn that had real body and permanent humorous value. The column was full of these "tabloid" stories and burlesques, most of which made their point in the "twist" on the ending which is now so well known as one of the characteristic "O. Henry" touch.

Credit for unearthing these old "O. Henry" writings belongs to Miss Florence Stratton of the Houston Public Library, an admirer of "O. Henry," who accidentally stumbled across them, while looking up material in the files of the Houston paper. Announcement of the find is creating a sensation not only in literary circles but also among the great mass of readers who have admired "O. Henry" for many years.

This is how members of the first English families got their names—husband comes from the word "house bond," he who holds the household together; wife—means she who weaves for the household; and daughter the one who does the making. The unmarried sister of husband or wife is she who spins—the spinner.

Factories have grown up everywhere and the wife need no longer "weave" except to weave into the household the beautiful spirit of home and to see that husband, son, daughter and one-time spinner get the food that best fits them for their various occupations. This means that daughter no longer milks but that wife uses

The Life of a Home

A healthy, happy, contented wife is the life and joy of the home and the greatest satisfaction a man can have, yet how many homes in America are blighted by the ill-health and sufferings of the wife? The sufferings of a woman, the tortures of a displacement or some other ailment peculiar to her sex, which makes her irritable, despondent and her whole life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to health and happiness, for statistics prove that it benefits 95 out of every 100 women who try it.—Advertisement.

MOVEMENTS ARE HIT AT MEETING

California Sons of American Revolution Condemn All Unpreparedness.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Condemnation of all pacifist movements as unpatriotic and dangerous to the welfare of the United States was voiced by the California Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at its annual meeting here, in which resolutions were adopted, demanding a state of adequate preparedness for war.

The resolution was made public today in connection with the announcement of the new officers of the organization. The meeting was held in Odd Fellows' hall and the resolution, presented by George C. Sergeant, was unanimously adopted. It called for national preparedness and was as follows:

Whereas, the late world war has shown that the discovery of science and the ingenuity of inventors have created appliances of war which, during two years of carnage, suffering and anxiety, made mankind doubt whether civilization could survive the forces which it had generated, and

Whereas, the achievement of our country in transporting millions of men to France in a short space of time revealed a danger to this country from without; and

Reg'lar Fellers by Gene Byrnes

One of America's greatest comics, appears every day and Sunday in The Oakland Tribune

"I sat and watched Gene Byrnes draw a picture of himself. And I marvelled, as I watched, how anybody could sit down off-hand, take up pencil and paper and start right off on a picture. When I had asked him for a photograph, he had looked rather dubious. He had his doubts if he had any pictures of himself. 'But,' he continued, 'I can make that all right.'"

A soft drawing pencil appeared magically in his fingers, and deftly he began to trace various figures on a square of drawing paper. As I looked on, the lines gradually began to take shape, until I could see the faint resemblance to a man. The pencil suddenly disappeared and its place was taken by a pen. This he dipped in India ink and with big, swift strokes blotted out the penciled lines with streaks of heavy black. A small paint brush put on the finishing touches. And, lo and behold! there was the picture all finished, showing Gene Byrnes, cartoonist at work with two "Reg'lar Fellers" on the edge of his desk.

The surprising part to me about the picture was the little time he did it in, not half an hour all told. I suppose that it is in a like manner that he puts out the funny strips for the daily papers.—By Helen Hilliard.

Women's Clubs Plan Frolic At Midnight

By EDNA B. KINARD.

A midnight party at which each guest will represent a "suppressed desire" will be one of the features of the annual convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs in Eureka, May 1-4. The role is arranged for members of the executive board, of which Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald is president.

A beautiful ceremonial of the State meeting will be the processional candle service in which officers, county and local executives will participate. Mrs. Fitzgerald, crowned in gold, will lead the procession, bearing a tall gold candle. The women participating in the ceremony will wear light-colored gowns. A prologue is being written especially for the occasion by Mrs. B. F. Walker of Stockton.

Miss Amy Cryan of England has been listed as a convention speaker, her appearance in Eureka marking the only lecture which she will give in California. Edgar F. Robinson of Leland Stanford University and H. B. Wilson, superintendent of schools in Berkeley, have also been given important places in the four-day meeting.

An automobile drive through the Humboldt State Park with luncheon at Dyer Flat has been programmed for the closing day.

Wild flower and Indian handicraft exhibits will be featured.

Mrs. George W. Turner of Fresno is chairman of program.

A State convention daylight special, carrying dining service, will leave the ferry building, San Francisco, at 9:45 a. m. Monday, April 30, for the accommodation of local delegates and the women from the south who will arrive here the day previous. Mrs. Elen L. Warner, Oakland, is directing the transportation for the federation. Card tables will be provided for the entertainment of the clubwomen. Programs and badges will be distributed en route. Credentials will be received on the train.

Manuscript music dedicated to Mrs. Helena Ashley Everingham, local composer, will be a feature of the annual convention in Lodi next week. "Avalanche," a poem selected by Mrs. Minna McGauley, past president of Ebeli, for an interpretative reading on the opening evening of the three-day meeting, has lent inspiration to the composition which will be rendered by the Arion Trio. The musical setting of the poem is said to be exceedingly beautiful by those who have heard it in rehearsal.

The annual breakfast of the University Mothers' Club is being planned for Thursday, April 26, at Hotel Oakland. Miss Margaret Mary Morgan, supervisor of San Francisco, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Kimball G. Easton, D. Ellsworth, press correspondent, will be the toastmaster. Musicians numbers are being arranged by Miss Dorothy Dunham. Details for the function, which brings to a close an active year of service, are being perfected by a committee of mothers, of which Mrs. Grace H. Roe is chairman. Mrs. Josephine Perry, retiring president, will preside at the annual luncheon. Reservations will be made by Mrs. Perry, Berkeley 5712, or with Mrs. Swasey, Berkeley 4710.

More than 150 will be guests. Mrs. Summers is now making her home in Los Angeles, from which city she arrived today for a visit with her kinsfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing, who depart for Europe in May, were the honor guests last night at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Bates, Jr., at their home. Places were set for a cotillion of their nearest friends.

A Mothers' section in Oakland Federation of Mothers' Club has been created, extension work along this line to become an important feature of the new program of work. This week the federation has put aside its own activities largely to assist in the work of the Community Chest drive.

Mrs. P. V. Vollmer, re-elected president of the important group for the coming year, will have the co-operation of the following officers on the board of directors: Vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Atterbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Atterbury, of Woodland, who have large ranch interests in the northern section of the state. He has just completed his course of the Davis Agricultural college.

Mrs. John Holland Mallett, accompanied by her son, Holland K. Mallett, sailed from New York April 17 on the Mauretania for the continent. They will join Mr. Mallett at the completion of his cruise on the S. S. Resolute in Naples and tour Europe leisurely. Mr. Mallett made the trip through the Orient, India and Egypt in company with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duke King of Piedmont, whom the Malletts traveled with upon their previous trip abroad.

During the absence of the Malletts from their home in Oak Ridge, Claremont, Mr. and Mrs. Meritt Wade Jr. and their daughter, Holly, are to take possession.

ALAMEDA TO VOTE ON EXTENSION OF BASE GIFT TIME

Campaign Conducted to Urge Further Opportunity for Consideration by U. S.

ALAMEDA, April 20.—The question whether the time limit on Alameda's offer of 5000 acres to the government for naval base purposes shall be extended a year or be allowed to lapse next New Year's day is to be decided at a special election to be held here Tuesday, May 8.

A campaign to acquaint Alameda citizens with the advantages of extending this time limit will be carried on here from now until the time of the election. Speakers from the chambers of commerce of Alameda, Oakland and San Francisco will make addresses in this city, pointing out how this course will benefit not only Alameda and the bay district, but the State and the Nation.

Unless the time limit is extended by popular vote at the coming election it automatically will cancel Alameda's offer of free land to the government on January 1 of next year. This is in accordance with the terms of the deed of gift voted by the citizens of this city in 1919.

TIME LIMIT NEAR END.

At that time it was voted to give the 5000 acres outright to the government, the only conditions being that the gift should be used for naval base purposes, and should be accepted by January 1, 1924. Up to the time of its adjournment this spring Congress had not yet accepted the gift.

Palms of the citizens of Alameda to grant the time extension would seriously weaken this city's chances of obtaining the proposed great Pacific Coast naval base. It is believed here that one of the great advantages of the local site in the eyes of experts, aside from its military considerations, has been the fact that although considerably larger than many other proposed sites, it involves not a cent of cost to the government.

FACTS FAVOR SITE.

The desirability of the site for government purposes was further emphasized today when navy there, after an inspection of the bay district, recommended Alameda as the location for a permanent naval air base.

Two separate reports were made to that effect, one by Lieut. and R. H. Ward, East-Admiral A. S. Halsey, commander of the

TRUANT YOUTHS OF ALAMEDA ARE BY POLICE NET

ALAMEDA, April 20.—Wearying of school books and close confinement in a school room when the outside world was so alluring, resulted in Arthur Hughes, 12, of 2308 San Jose avenue, and George Johnson, 11, of 2112 San Antonio avenue, packing their camping kits and setting out to see the world last Wednesday.

Reported to the police by the anxious parents resulted in the children being apprehended by the Sacramento police at an early hour this morning, according to a report received by the police here.

BULGARS URGE THRACE INQUIRY

GENEVA, April 20.—(By Associated Press.)—An international investigation of the alleged widespread deportations and mistreatment of Bulgarian subjects by Greek officials in western Thrace was asked officially by Bulgaria yesterday of the council of the league of nations. The council delegates a member to submit a report. M. Theodorov, Bulgarian minister to Belgrade, accused the Greeks of driving across the frontier men and women who were dying of hunger and guilty of no offense. M. Cacanians, Greek minister to Great Britain, denied the Bulgarian allegation.

Mrs. THOMAS WAS HOUSECLEANING

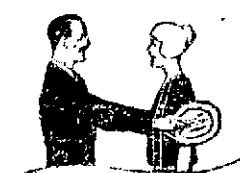

For two days she had been packing away the winter clothing, cleaning windows, changing curtains, sweeping floors, dusting furniture and moving things around generally.

It was hard work, even with Martha, a colored woman, helping her.

Along toward mid-afternoon of the second day, Mrs. Thomas felt that she couldn't go a step farther. "I've simply got to rest a while," she told herself, "or I'll have another of those splitting headaches."

Martha was sympathetic. "What you done need, mam, is a good hot cup o' Coffee. It will set you right in a jiffy."

And it did! That night Mrs. Thomas told her husband about it. "Martha must have had a cup, too, she added, for she seemed to feel better and work better the rest of the afternoon."

Mr. Thomas nodded approvingly. "I'm glad you're so bright and chipper. First housecleaning time it's ever happened. I know how you feel. I've been drinking a cup of Coffee myself every afternoon for a month. Best thing I ever did. I should have told you about it."

Rabbi to Address Women of Berkeley

BERKELEY, April 20.—"A Woman's Place in a Man's World" will be the subject of an address to be given by Dr. Rudolph I. Coffee of Oakland at the monthly dinner of the Berkeley Business and Professional Women's Club to be held at 6:30 o'clock Monday night at the Varsity candy shop, Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue. Mrs. C. R. Kelly will preside. Each member is privileged to invite two guests. Reservations are being made through Miss R. W. Foss, secretary of the club, at the Berkeley city hall.

FORTUNE SMILES ON YOUNG ORCHARDIST

"Hello, Jim! Back in town again, I see. What's the idea? Told me last week you didn't intend to

"Well, Henry, I didn't intend to when I told you that. The drought sort of made me sick, but the rains have changed all that. Why, that rain was worth thousands of dollars to the orchards down in our part of the country."

"Oh, I see! Just came in to celebrate a little, huh? Now that you are assured of a good crop, you are going to loosen up a bit. Well, that's a good idea, otherwise some of us fellows would be dancing to the tune of hard luck."

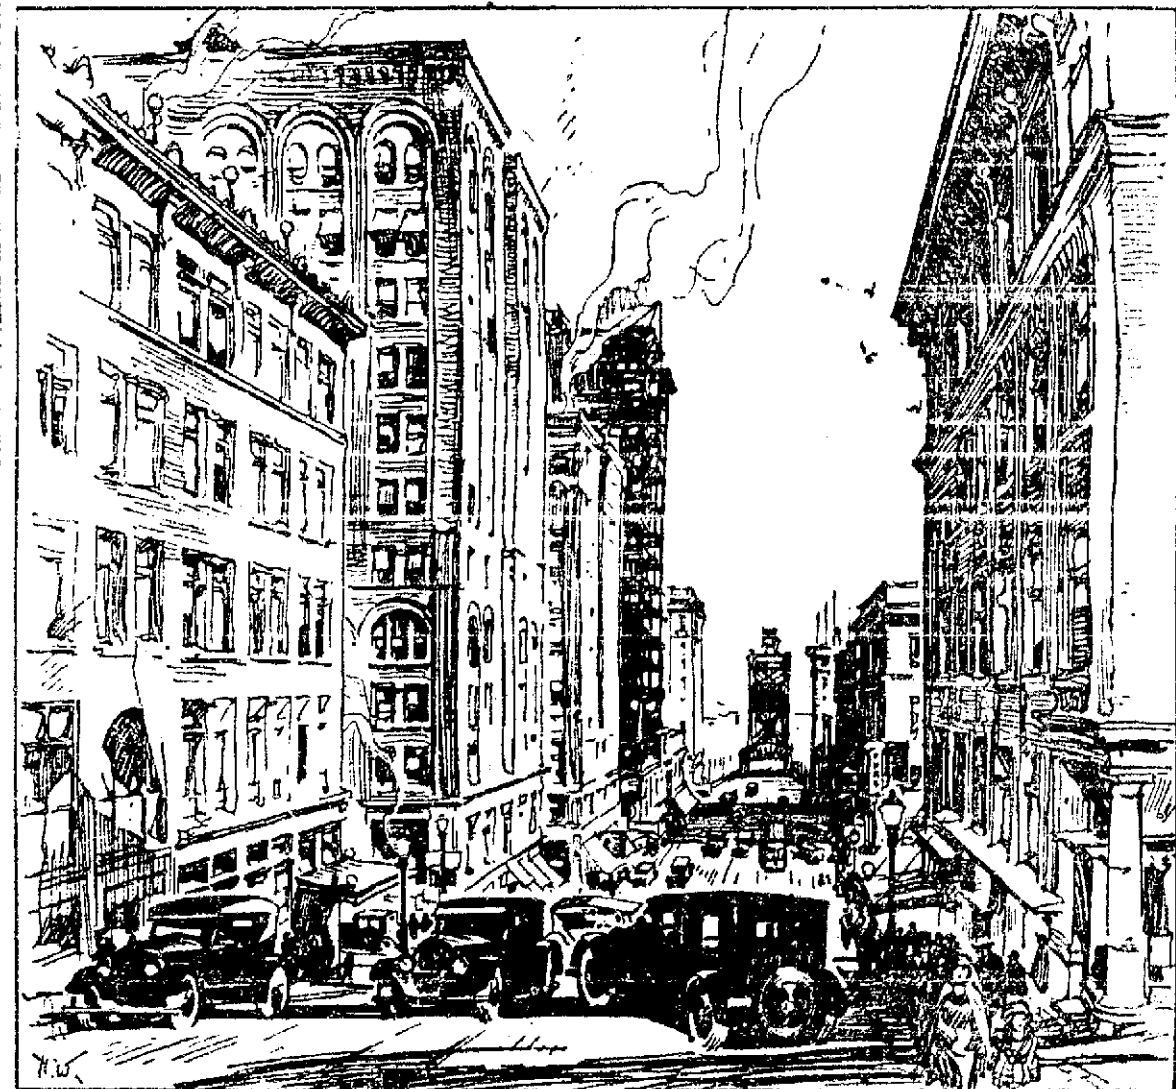

"Yes, I'm going to spend my time in the city for a while. I'm going to take in a few shows and visit friends until I get tired, then back to the country for me."

"Fine! Molly and I will expect you up to the house for dinner some evening soon. How about Sunday evening?"

"That suits me. You tell Molly that I have been baching for so long that a good, home-cooked dinner will please me immensely. She certainly knows how to cook, Jim. You got a gem when you married her. But, say, before I go to accepting invitations for dinner engagements, I've got to have some new clothes. Where do you buy yours, if I may ask without being too personal?"

"No, not at all. I am glad you like my choice of clothes. I have my top at Cherry's, at 528 13th street. Their styles are good and their prices are right. And, by the way, if you're a little short, your credit is good."

Cherry's store for women is at 815 13th street.—Advertisement.

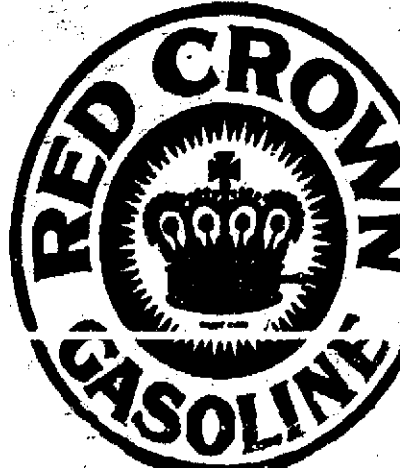

Eleventh Street and Broadway, Tacoma, where the check was made

In TACOMA it's RED CROWN by 157%

100% POWER

"Red Crown" is a small-refinery gasoline, every drop of which vaporizes rapidly and uniformly in the carburetor and is completely consumed in the cylinders, giving easy starting, quick and smooth acceleration and full power. That is why consistent users of "Red Crown" get greater flexibility and more mileage from their cars, and have less trouble starting all the year round.

When the majority of motorists from the Mexican line to the Canadian border unite in believing that "Red Crown" is a better motor fuel, there must be some reason for this belief.

In Tacoma our checker, working in the vicinity of 11th Street and Broadway, questioned 159 motorists concerning their preferences in motor fuel. 67 used "Red Crown" exclusively, as against 26 for the nearest competing product—a lead of over 157%.

And a majority of these "Red Crown" users didn't hesitate to say that quality dictated their choice—"quality," and the uniformly efficient "service" dispensed at Standard Oil Service Stations.

You'll find the Red Crown sign everywhere—wherever you can drive a car.

Eczema Torture

Is one of the curses of modern life which none escape, rich or poor.

It can always be told by the thickened, cracked or scaly skin or weeping sores from which ooze a sticky liquid which causes an intolerable itching, and makes life an itching misery, especially at night.

The old-style method of treating the disease was greasy sticky salves and ointments, simply covering over the surface only, a clean, cooling, penetrating lotion may now be applied, which gets to the bottom of the sores and kills the germs, stopping the itching instantly and causing an entirely new skin to grow.

Eczemine

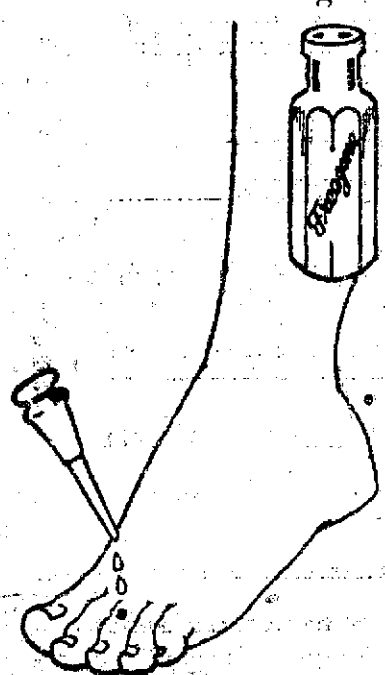

Such a lotion is Eczemine, the newly discovered specific for eczema and skin diseases. Good also for scalp diseases and baby's itch and as an antiseptic shaving lotion. $1 and $2 bottles.

JAPAN BLOCKING RADIO INTERESTS OF U. S. IN CHINA

Independent Project for Big Wireless Chain Is Held Up at Peking.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—The plans of the Federal Telegraph company to link China and the United States by an American wireless system have met with unexpected foreign opposition at Peking, according to cable advice from the Chinese capital. British and Japanese opposition, backed by official representations to the Chinese foreign office, have held up Chinese validation of the Federal's 1920 contract with China, according to these advices.

The repudiation of our contract with China by the Peking government would leave Chinese-American communications entirely in the hands of the British and Japanese.

said Leon Docquier, of San Francisco, vice-president of the company. He added that he did not believe China eventually would adopt such a course, despite the strenuous opposition of the Mitsui interests of Japan, backed by the Tokyo government, and added:

"The American state department has been appealed to and is standing squarely behind the Federal company in its fight for equal rights in China and actual recognition of the 'open-door' policy, to which Japan, as well as other nations, has subscribed.

The Mitsui company, in the face of its government's approval of the 'open door' policy in China at the Washington conference, contends that its agreement with the Peking authorities constitutes a wireless monopoly in the East.

public and in pressing its antagonism to American plans with all possible vigor through Japanese diplomatic channels in Peking.

"In the meantime, J. P. Seaver, president of the Federal is on the ground in China with a corps of engineers, ready to begin construction on a chain of five wireless plants that will link China to the United States independent of any other and free from any censorship. The project involves the expenditure by the Federal of $13,000,000, and we will go ahead as soon as our contract is validated at Peking, which I hope, in spite of Japanese and British objections, will be in the near future."

KLX PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Musical Entertainment Will Be Presented by Pupils of Oakland Class.

The radio program to be broadcast this evening from The TRIBUNE's radio station between 7 and 7:30 o'clock will be given by pupils of the Oakland High school, Friday evening between 7 and 7:30 having been designated Oakland school music class.

The participants will be Arthur C. Nord, violinist; Miss California MacFarland, piano accompanist; Anna Margaret Whalin, vocal soloist; Philip Lampkin, cornet soloist; and Mabel Swain, piano accompanist. These pupils were selected from the best of the Oakland High school orchestra, and are the leaders in the school music class. The complete program appears under the "KLX" schedule.

Between 9 and 9:30 The TRIBUNE's pianist, Miss Estelle Drummond Swift, will entertain with a number of selected solos. At 9:30 the director of radio for The TRIBUNE will explain the purpose of the new wave allocations, which will go into effect on May 15, 1923, and the necessity for close cooperation. This is something the fans have been waiting for, and just how they will be enabled to tune in on any station, at any time of the day, will be explained. The laws which are to be enforced to govern broadcasting and amateur transmission also will be read, so that there will be a clear understanding of all concerned before the new system is put into practice.

The Scouts' band, which was scheduled to give an outdoor concert this evening, was prevented from doing so because of the participation of a number of the band members in activities of that organization at Stockton. The open air concert will be given at a later date.

NEW DIET BEST, SAYS PROFESSOR

Transportation and refrigeration have completely reorganized habits of housewives, bringing about a different style of diet, Dr. Lafayette Mendel, professor of physiological chemistry in Yale university, showed Mills college students yesterday. Fruit was superceded throughout the United States the liberal breakfast of meat and the pie menu, the visiting authority declared.

Dr. Mendel spoke of the old method of feeding typhoid patients only milk, showing that later investigation proved more nourishing food should be given that the patient might recover the more rapidly. He noted the need of careful feeding of children, pointing out the mistake made by the Germans in supposing that they could underfeed the young and not suffer thereby.

"Problems of food, shelter and clothing are of the utmost importance to this country today," Dr. Mendel asserted.

Dr. John Louis Horn, associate professor of education at Mills college, is the author of a new book, "The American Elementary School," now being published by the Century company. Professor Horn will teach in the summer school of the University of Illinois this year, returning to Oakland for the fall semester at Mills.

ENTOMOLOGISTS END MEET. WINNIPEG, Man., April 20.—The international conference of entomologists concluded its sessions here yesterday and adjourned to meet at Bozeman, Mont., next April. Norman Girdle, entomologist of the Dominion laboratory at Treasbank, Man., was re-elected chairman.

His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alterative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, and pimples and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is but skin deep and good blood is beneath both. TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, April 20.—The new county government bill for Alameda county will contain the following raises of salaries, to take effect immediately, it was today announced by Earl Warren, after a conference with the members of the Alameda county delegation: County clerk's office, increase of $720; sheriff's office, increase of $700; recorder's office, increase of $600; treasurer's office, increase of $500; district attorney's office, increase of $400; justice of the peace office, Oakland township, increase of $180.

The following increases to take place four years hence: Superintendent of schools office, increase of $1000; justice of the peace office, Brooklyn township, $1200; justice of the peace office, Brooklyn township, $2000; constables, Brooklyn township, $360.

The following reductions to take place immediately: Assessor's office, $400; superintendent of schools' office, $500.

Life Insurance Co. Subject of Suit

Fred H. Simon, fifteen days before his death on February 13, last, changed the beneficiary of his life insurance policy from his wife, Mrs. Kate Simon, to his brother, Ernest C. Simon. It is revealed by a suit filed in the Superior Court by the New York Life Insurance Company.

The wife and brother are made defendants in the suit which asks that the company be allowed to deposit the $149,715 due on the policy with the court for its determination as to whom the policy should be paid. While the change of beneficiary was legally made, it is declared, the fact remains that the premiums were made out of the community funds and therefore the wife is entitled to a right to a portion of the amount due.

Suspect in Rabbi Murder Unidentified

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—The inquest in the case of Rabbi Alfred L. Lanes was held today by Coroner T. B. W. Leland and none of the witnesses was able to identify C. A. Hicks, Mare Island sailor, as the man who registered with the clergyman at the Gates Hotel, where later the rabbi was found badly beaten.

Little evidence was forthcoming as to how the rabbi came to go to the hotel and none of importance at the morning session, leading to link Hicks with his murder.

Pipe Breaks Up Oratory in Lower House

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 20.—The extended debate on the budget has had its sidelights, although it is deadly serious in tone as a usual thing. In one of the early meetings, J. W. Johnston began to speak and as he did so Bernard, who sits clear down in front, left the floor at top speed, thereby considerably disconcerting the speaker and bringing a laugh. Yesterday Bernard took the floor, and as soon as he got well started Johnston deliberately drew out a long black pipe, began to cram it with tobacco and very leisurely moved toward the door. Bernard was in turn halted by a roar of appreciative laughter.

Sometimes the speakers in the heat of oratory, get a little tangled in their English. One earnest member, speaking for some amendments to favor the school for the blind, said this: "Let's forget politics, let's open our purses; let's help the blind children, that can't see a ask for what they want."

HIGHWAY BOARD OPPOSES BONDS

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—The California Highway Commission adopted and sent to Governor Richardson yesterday a resolution informing him that it does not think it advisable at present to propose or submit any bond issue for the construction of highways in the State. In the resolution Commissioners Toy, Everding and Edwards said: "We believe that a full survey of the entire problem of State highway-building in California should have the attention of a legally constituted committee of citizens, representing the various interests of the State. A report from which committee should include among other provisions a plan of the future financing of a complete system."

Marjorie Daw to Wed Chaplin Aid

LOS ANGELES, April 20.—Marjorie Daw, movie star, will marry Eddie Sutherland, Charlie Chaplin's director, tonight, at the home of Douglas Fairbank and Mary Pickford. It was announced today, Mary Pickford will act as bridesmaid and Charlie Chaplin as best man.

Sutherland got up enough courage to propose this morning, and was accepted at once. After talking it over the couple decided not to delay the nuptials.

BOOK THIEVERY FROM LIBRARY WILL BE CURBED

Senate Passes Measure to Make Difficult Sale of the Stolen Volumes.

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—To check thievery in public libraries, the Senate today passed and sent to the governor a bill by Assemblyman West, Sacramento, to hold second-hand book dealers responsible for receiving pilfered library books. As explained by Senator Imman, the measure would make it difficult to dispose of stolen library books, thereby saving libraries great losses through the theft of volumes from their shelves.

The Senate also approved a bill by Assemblyman Weller to enable the state to accept federal aid provided by the Sheppard-Towner federal act in behalf of maternity and infancy welfare. Other bills acted upon favorably by the upper house included these by: Senator Canepa, to increase the hours of study for medical students.

CHIROPONDISTS BILL

Assemblyman Hornblower, to increase the hours of study for applicants for licenses as chiroprondists.

Assemblymen Pedrotti and Emma, to provide two more justices of the peace for Los Angeles county.

Assemblymen Pedrotti and Emma, to give Los Angeles police courts three additional clerks.

Assemblyman Williams, to declare the Big Tree road between Mariposa and Wawona, Mariposa county, to be part of the seven per cent highway system.

Assemblyman Stevenson, to declare county road in Calaveras county between Angels Camp and the Calaveras big trees to be a state highway.

Assemblyman Duval, to give associations organized under the old co-operative act the same privileges to be accorded to those formed under the new act now pending.

ASSEMBLY GETS TO WORK
The assembly of the state legislature having been held under lock and key because it had placed itself under a call of the house, settled down about midnight to the passing of unopposed measures on the third reading file. The following bills were passed and sent to the Senate:

By Croter, changing the law relating to the posting of notices in probate proceedings, to require but one notice at the courthouse, instead of three at various places throughout the county.

Reindollar, relinquishing to the town of Sausalito portions of six overhauled streets owned by the state.

Wright, county government bill for Santa Clara county.

Williams, county government bill for Madera county.

Connolly, authorizing prison directors to establish regular schools for minor convicts and require their attendance thereat.

Eskward, providing for the annexation of unincorporated territory to fire protection districts.

Noyes, permitting county supervisors to do without contract work to the cost of $1000 instead of the former limit of $500.

Last Tribute Paid Placerville Editor

The funeral of Miss Mollie Carpenter, who died in Oakland, assembled a large group of pioneers in Northern California at Placerville this week to pay their last respects.

Since the death of her father, G. J. Carpenter, who came to this state in 1850, Miss Carpenter has been owner, publisher and editor of the Mountain Democrat of Placerville. She was a graduate of Placerville Seminary and of the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, Mass., and was a delegate from California to the last national Democratic convention.

Miss Carpenter is survived by a niece, Mrs. Claire Carpenter Monson, of this city and a cousin, Judge Clay Carpenter.

CLUB ON PILGRIMAGE

RICHMOND, April 20.—Club Mendocino of this city made a pilgrimage to Rosa yesterday, where Mrs. E. George Harlow was hostess at her country home. Mrs. E. B. Smith, president, was in the chair during a brief business session, the remainder of the day being devoted to social intercourse.

The making of the trip were Mesdames Sissilo, Hammond, Ford, Scofield, Huston, Smith, Lipp, Harold, Garrard, Harlow, Richmond, Campbell, Newcomb, St. John, Clark, and Miss McNeill.

New Narcotic Drug Division Is Created

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A new narcotic drug enforcement division will be established with headquarters at Seattle, Wash. May 1. It will include four states, Washington and Oregon, now in the San Francisco division, and Montana and Idaho, now in the Denver division. Reorganization of the drug enforcement divisions, prohibition officials said, was designed to effect economy and also tighten up enforcement.

It is made fresh daily in Oakland and contains absolutely pure insect powder. When you purchase your next can of ant powder be sure to get Ford's and see the wonderful results. Two Boys Admit San Leandro Theft

SAN LEANDRO, April 20.—Two youths, ages 13 and 15 years, whose names are being withheld by the police, were removed yesterday to the Oakland detention home for entering a residence there with stolen tools and making away with $5 in cash and several articles. The boys admitted the theft, the police say.

The boys are alleged by the police to be the ones who recently entered both the Junior Monarch Hay Press and a local pickle works, stole worth of oil to escape from a vat in the former establishment, and stolen tools and making away with a valuable testing instrument.

HARDING'S PLAN ON WORLD COURT STIRS OPPOSITION

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEARNED WORLD TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Expressing the belief that President Harding's plan for a world court would stir opposition to the administration's world court membership proposal was even stronger than that against entrance into the League of Nations, Representative Will R. Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional campaign committee, today told President Harding he believed it was a mistake for the party to support the proposal. Wood's statement to the President constituted the first open opposition to Harding's proposal among Republican leaders outside of the "irreconcilable" group of senators. Wood said afterward the President was not weakened in his advocacy of the proposal as outlined in the message to the Senate just before adjournment of Congress.

Continued advocacy of the world proposal, in the opinion of Representative Wood, would either create a schism in the Republican party or deprive the party of clear-cut issue with the Democrats in 1924, inasmuch as the Democrats seemed generally favorable to American membership on the court.

He said he presented his views as his own, but added that he was sure they were shared by a large group in the Republican party. He told the President he had recently visited Indiana and found there, and in other parts of the Middle West, strong opposition to membership in any international connected with the League of Nations.

Dry Bill Is Snowed Under in Parliament

LONDON, April 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—For the first time in its history, the House of Commons today debated a liquor prohibition bill and, at the expiration of the arguments on it, killed the measure by rejecting it on the second reading by a vote of 234 to 14. The bill was introduced recently by Edwin Levermore of Dundee, who has devoted his life to the cause of prohibition.

Accessory Thieves Operating in Antioch

MARTINEZ, April 20.—A gang to be the same that operated here, has invaded Antioch, according to report, made to the sheriff's office by Constable Ed Thomas. Five Martinez automobile owners reported tires and other accessories stolen last week. Among losers at Antioch is Roy Huffman, grammar school principal. When Huffman went to his garage for his machine he found it jacked up with all four tires gone. J. D. Dohlan has also reported a similar experience.

From Lafayette, Speed Officer Ed Keefe reported his garage had been broken open at night, and that the spotlight from his motorcycle and automobile accessories had been stolen.

If you see it in THE TRIBUNE tell them so.

FRAMEWORK OF NEW YORK'S NEW COURT HOUSE — General view showing progress being made on New York's new courthouse, now under construction on the lower end of Manhattan. In building this structure 200,000 cubic feet of steel will be used. The building will cost about $12,000,000. —Keystone Photo.

CHINA TRANSPLANTED TO UNIVERSAL CITY—Here is a scene from Priscilla Dean's latest Universal-Jewel picture, "Drifting," a film version of the William A. Brady stage success.

TOMORROW'S AIRSHIP MAY TRAVEL WITH OWN BASE—Here is a drawing suggesting possible developments in aircraft building of the future. The picture shows an airship of the proposed new type, with a broad, rounded upper half, steep sides and narrow bottom. It is a 50-passenger London-New York air liner in its role as an auxiliary mercantile cruiser. It is being moored to the mast of its naval depot vessel. —Copyright by Underwood.

HIS CONCESSIONS STIR UP EUROPEAN POWERS — Ad-

have obtained mining and railway concessions in Turkey, which were ratified by Turkish Assembly. Russia, France and England are putting forth claims to territory covered by concessions. It is understood that each of these countries will vigorously contest the American claims. —Keystone Photo.

SOME BIRD, ISN'T SHE?—Milady is here shown in a stunning creation of tan peroseline. The trim is uneven—wider on one side than the other. Glycine ostrich feathers form a sort of aureole. —Keystone Photo.

SHE TURNS THE TABLES—Formerly it was only the men gymnasts that competed for metropolitan championships. Miss Lottie Weinst of the New York Turn Verein is here shown demonstrating her muscle and nerve. She will compete against some of New York's leading gymnasts for metropolitan honors. Sixty women representing some seventeen clubs will be entered in the various events. —Keystone Photo.

THE TRAFFIC COP IS THE SCHOOL KID'S FRIEND—Oakland's traffic policemen are real life savers. So ably have they protected the school children that not one has been killed or injured by an automobile while approaching any of the Oakland schools. This scene is a typical street corner scene in the vicinity of any of the local schools. —Keystone Photo.

JUBILEE'S PARTNER

by Judd Mortimer
Illustrations by Edwin

Nibs blamed the Lost Bag of Tripe for him falling in the river but he could not make him fight.

Today was Friday and the wind was blowing and it was kinda cold, but a fella as tuff as I and Jubilee does not mind the cold.

I was kinda sorry for Jubilee though. He has to get out of a warm bed as dry as anything and be let down out of a window by a rope in his teeth till his bunsie lands in a puddle of cold water.

It is a good thing the puddle is not half ways up to the window because he hollers every time he feels it. If he hollered half ways down he would have to open up his face to holler. Then he would let go of the rope and fall the rest of the way.

When I had put on my short britches and had got down stairs Annabelle Lee was out of bed and out in the kitchen looking around.

There was a jug of molasses under the kitchen table, so I showed it to her and pulled the cork out of it and put it back in kinda loose. Then I went out and milked the cow and when I came in to strain the milk Annabelle Lee had done even more than I expected.

My mother was standing looking at a lot of spilled molasses, and Annabelle Lee had stepped in it and tracked it all the way through the dining room to their bedroom. That was one thing they could not blame me for. I bet they were sorry.

When school let out Nibs said for me to not do anything to the Lost Bag of Tripe for pushing down the brick house on me.

He had a little key-hole saw hanging on the inside of his pants and he said he would go out to the big sycamore back of the poor-house and he would saw the diving limb half off. A little while after he had went he said I should bring the bunch out and dash the Lost Bag of Tripe to go out on the branch. Then it would bust with him and he would go in the river. That was a good scheme.

Nibs skin out and after a while I said let's all go out there, so we did. When we got there Nibs was waiting to get a match off of one of us so he could make a fire. The nut had got out on the branch to saw it and when it broke off with him he had fell in the river and lost his saw and got all wet.

You would think a fella that wears long pants and smokes a pipe would have some sense. Nibs ain't very bright. If he had let me go along with him I would have seen him fall in. As it was I missed it all.

We went home through the woods but there is not anything in the woods this time of year. Nibs blamed the Lost Bag of Tripe for him falling in the river but he could not make him fight.

Youniss and her father and mother came over after supper and we set up quite a while because she does not have to get up to go to school tomorrow, but all days are alike to a fella that has to milk cows.

I offered to sing for them, but Youniss was the only one that wanted me to. I bet when it got to be pulled up. I bet when it got to be pulled up. I bet when it got to be pulled up.

The Way of Two Maids

TODAY'S SHORT STORY BY Ad Schuster

"I GIVE my word," the Lady Marvita faced her father calmly. "I give my word not to walk or ride beyond the borders of the garden to be a prisoner in my own home and land, and all because of your foolishness. And, in return, I ask a favor."

The count sighed and smiled. "This had been easier than he had hoped."

"I ask I be allowed to see the Lady Dorothy."

Count Raymond's lips tightened.

"Once a week, for an hour," he said, "and that is all."

This war between Dorothy and Banning had been on for years. Neither place was large enough to support an army, neither dared brave an attack. The fighting was done over the borders and under cover of night. Raid provoked raid, forfeit for forfeit. And now Count Raymond had scored with the capture of Lady Dorothy. This was the master stroke, but it meant strong guards on the castle and a close watch on Marvita.

"And so you see, Dorothy, I am as much a prisoner, almost, as you. I am pledged not to go beyond the garden and you must stay in these rooms," she studied the other carefully. "We must find a way."

For weeks even the garden was denied the daughter of the castle, for Laurie of Banning strove valiantly to win back the maid of his heart. Failing in this he had vowed he would hold her for the trade. Men slept on their arms and there was brave fighting on the roads. Then both sides wearied, and there was a spell of peace.

"And I had not guessed I would not walk in the gardens today," Lady Marvita said to the prisoner, "I would walk the little path that leads to the gate in the far corner. And I might."

care and venture outside. One's pledge may be heavily inconvenient."

She picked up her long cloak and shook out its folds.

In the hall a guard saluted at the figure in the familiar cloak. The lady walked to the garden and a servant ran to the count. The gate opened to her touch. She looked outside, then back at the castle from which came the count and others. Here was a pretty picture of excitement. The lady laughed, then shrieked. Hoofs pounded, a man shouted, she was seized and swung to the middle and the race was on.

Down the road toward Banning they fled, with enough men behind to fight off attack. The goal was the border, and the prize the daughter of the count. The man who held the girl laughed loud and dug his spurs into his horse.

"A Marvita for a Dorothy," he said as the pace slackened and the race seemed won. "Ramond's daughter a prisoner until Laurie's bride, the Lady Dorothy, is freed."

"It is not far now," he said later when he saw the girl was all but spent. "You will be cared for and treated kindly. We are not cruel to prisoners. We are only proud to have them."

The maid had no answer. If she had protested or struggled it would have been easier. Warfare on women was not to the man's liking. He thought of Dorothy and sighed himself.

"Lady Marvita," there was a note of apology in the voice, "I would rather cross swords with a man, but there was no other way. It was you, and your father, showed me this way. You have but to free Lady Dorothy."

The girl looked up.

"The Lady Dorothy is a captive forever."

"You mean?" Laurie sought to look under the cape, and his voice was hard. "Has anything happened to Dorothy?"

"She has lost her heart," the girl said, and she threw back the hood and smiled at her lover. "And it was Lady Marvita who sent me to you."

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

I was sitting on our front steps with my new book and a pen in my hand. I was waiting for a letter from Laurie. He had said he would write me every day. I had been waiting for a week now. I was getting impatient.

With Teddy did and I said Yed Yed Yed Yed. And I pinched his ear and he gave a fearful yell, sounding as much like a chicken as it sounded like anything else and saying more.

May be the heck, those ain't tricks, Sid said.

Why ain't they? Who said you was a trick expert? I said. Go on, it's Teddy's turn again, I said.

Like fun, I wouldn't give you a satisfaction, come on Teddy, Sid said. And he walked away mad and me and Yed Yed Yed on setting on my front steps both glad.

"The Charming Woman Did Not Move."

IMAGINATION

THE possession of something for which one has yearned does not necessarily bring satisfaction and peace of mind. It is aspiration for the unattainable that gives zest to existence.

Melvin was a highly imaginative person. He worshiped beauty in all things and particularly in woman. The biologist can reconstruct some prehistoric creature from a few veritable remains. From the ordinarily visible details of beauty in a woman Melvin became fascinated as to the full measure of physical charm with which Nature had endowed her.

Melvin met Dora at a function which, like so many functions these days, was the occasion of feminine display. Fashion has generous periods. To Melvin, Dora had the lost arms of the Venus de Milo; her neck was the most beautiful he had ever seen; her hair was of texture, color and abundance that alone would have charmed. Melvin lost no time in paying court to her, and as he was an attractive man, they were duly married. They were of a uniformity in age, material resource and social condition that should have made them congenial as far as such particulars may insure congeniality.

Yet after a comparatively brief period Melvin became dissatisfied with matrimony. Its tediousness was one cause. Mrs. Melvin's habit was another. She was naturally indolent. Although she had made for intimate service she would appear at breakfast with her personal preparation for the day in an intermediate stage against the effect of which her lovely arms and neck and hair struggled in vain. She was dowdy. With Melvin this was fatal. His nagging, instead of effecting amendment to her habit, spoiled her temper and killed her affection.

Their feeling finally being mutual, they separated. There was talk of divorce, but that was deferred. Mrs. Melvin was left to her own devices. Melvin sought distraction in journeys to the West, where he had large interests. Yet the vision of Mrs. Melvin in her most attractive state was always before him. He was constantly looking for arms, a neck and hair like hers, but his search was in vain. He concluded that as to these gifts she had no peer. And he could not forget her.

Coming East late one night, Melvin boarded a through train which was flagged for him at a way station. Among all the Pullmans there was but one vacant berth—an upper. He was disappointed. He had been very active. The wait for the train had wearied him.

Climbing to his berth, a slight opening in the curtain startled and enchanted him. He caught a glimpse of a vision. Yes, more than a glimpse, for what the mind has long dwelt upon the eye records at meeting with the detail and fidelity of a camera.

A woman in the lower berth had apparently become absorbed in a book that she took no note of time. She was reclining, facing the window, with the electric light upon the page she was devouring. From a dainty handkerchief a hint of the wonder of her hair escaped, and her neck and arms fascinated Melvin. Her charms even surpassed those of Mrs. Melvin. "Anything de matiah, boss?" asked the porter who was holding a ladder for Melvin.

He had stumbled on a step. It was deliberate. It gave him another fraction of a moment for observation. The charming woman did not move. The page under her pretty thumb must have been engrossing.

Melvin did not sleep for hours. A line of light no thicker than a hair was projected through some negligence of the porter to Melvin's eye from below. He watched it while his mind wove a fabric. If this woman should prove to be single he would pay court to her. A divorce was but a detail. If she were married, why shouldn't he do the same? She was his fate!

The light disappeared. Toward morning Melvin fell into slumber. He dreamed he was in a train wreck and woke up with a start. The train was still in motion. He had an impression that the lower berth was empty. It was. He performed the acrobatic feats that precede departure in a train. He slipped from an upper and made his way to the lower berth. A surreptitious glance between curtains into the lower berth had disclosed feminine detail, among other things a picture hat. He was happy. She had not left the train.

Melvin met the porter, into whose hand he slipped a coin. "Do you mind telling me," he asked, "the destination of the lady in lower seven?"

"She's for New York. In de ladies' room now, sub."

Melvin took his seat facing the rear of the car. He felt that he might betray his anxiety and defeat his plan if he should face the door through which she must enter. The waiter turned the facing chair.

"I'd rather you wouldn't do that," said Melvin. "Try to manage it as though it just happens." The car was filling, but an interested waiter may perform prodigies.

The impatient man was negotiating gratefully when he felt a presence. He kept his eyes down. The waiter seated a lady with the remark:

"Yes, sir. All right, sir."

Melvin leaned up to meet the amazed glance of Mrs. Melvin.

"Well, open it then and be cursed quick about it!"

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

THE FIRST TRIP "ROUND THE WORLD."

Part VIII—The Death of Magellan. Magellan liked the head-chief who came on board his flagship. He gave him a gown made of red and yellow cloth, and a red cap. To other natives he gave knives and mirrors. All the brown-skinned men went ashore feeling they had been well treated.

Magellan was shot in the right leg with an arrow. He kept fighting, but ordered his men to retreat slowly toward the boats. Instead of doing that all but six or seven broke into a run. This left the leader in a perilous position with only a handful of men. He had to try to stand off a host of savages.

Before long, Magellan was wounded in the face with a bamboo spear. He was killed.

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

by Johnny Gruelle

Copyright by JOHNNY GRUELLE. All Rights Reserved.

THE queer little old woman, Betsy Bonnet String, and the Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy were chopping upon the tree in which the little old woman lived.

The little old woman put her foot on the tree and cried, "Quit chopping on my tree. Here is the apron." And she threw out an apron. But just as soon as Betsy Bonnet String shook the apron and made a wish for ice cream sodas for each, she knew the old woman had thrown out another apron instead of Betsy Bonnet String's real for sure magical apron.

"The Too ack queue was so thirsty for ice cream sodas and so disappointed he sat right down upon the ground and cried."

But crying can never help matters. No, sir. So Raggedy Ann wiped the Too ack queue's eyes with her apron and said, "We must think of some way to get into the tree and take the magic apron away from the queer little old woman."

"But how can we ever get into the tree now that the little old woman has taken my axe?" the Too ack queue said.

"Of course Raggedy Ann could not tell the Too ack queue how they could do this any more than Betsy Bonnet String or Raggedy Andy could tell him.

"Hm!" said Grampy Hoppytoad. "You know how the Flower Fairies made me their flower policeman. Well, I have got acquainted with all the honey bees and bumble bees. So, the first bee who comes along here, I will ask to help you."

Pretty soon along came Bertram Bumble Bee, "zuzzing and zuzzing" as he flew lazily here and there. Grampy Hoppytoad called to Bertram and told him all about Betsy Bonnet String's apron. "Zum! Zum!" Bertram Bumble Bee cried, "Just you wait around the tree!"

"And into the knot hole window he flew, while the Raggedy Ann and the Too ack queue and Betsy Bonnet String and Grampy Hoppytoad waited around the tree to catch the little old woman if she came out. Bertram Bumble Bee had only been inside the tree sixteen seconds when the little old woman came popping out.

"Hm!" the Too ack queue cried as he caught her and took the magic apron away from her. All about Betsy Bonnet String's apron, "Zum! Zum!" Bertram Bumble Bee asked as he flew out the knot hole window. "She went somewhere. I couldn't see where, and she didn't give me any time to sting her."

"We are glad you didn't sting the old woman," Betsy Bonnet String said as she shook an ice cream soda at them. "You all sit down to enjoy yourselves. We have the magic apron back so it is better to forgive her than to harm her."

"But say, Larty, look out for the top step—it's a son-of-a-gun!"

My Marriage Problems

Adelle Garrison's Revelations of a Wife

THE CONVERSATION MADGE HEARD IN HER HIDING PLACE.

At the first sound of the stealthy footsteps in the front hall I rose noiselessly from the chair my father had placed for me, took a soundless step forward, and put my hand upon the door leading from the library to the day side hall where I was stationed.

The baited trap had worked! Smith was actually in the house, and the sound of Katie's sibilant whispering coming nearer, told me that in another minute he would enter the library.

I have always flattered myself that I possessed as much bravery as the average woman, but the knowledge that the man creeping like a treacherous animal through the corridor would count the chance to kill or maim me a welcome addition to his sinister record made me cower against the door I was holding as if the inanimate object could protect me.

A MYSTERIOUS PRESENCE.

We had purposely left ajar the door from the front hall to the library, and when the door closed with so slight a noise that I could hardly distinguish it, I knew that Katie would have awakened the most persistent sleeper in the county. "Everybody sound sleep in house."

For a second or two they stood motionless, then there was a tiny gleam of light at the bottom of the draperies separating the library from the alcove. It was another step as quickly as it appeared, however, and I heard a whispered guttural protest from the man Smith.

Dot all right, Katie's whisper would have awakened the most persistent sleeper in the county. "Everybody sound sleep in house."

"Shut up!" the man growled so fiercely that Katie promptly subsided. From my previous knowledge of Smith's arrogant egotism I guessed, however, it was not from caution that he silenced Katie, but from his reluctance to permit anyone else to occupy the center of the stage for an instant.

There was another silence—longer this time—a silence broken only by the rather heavy but calm breathing of Smith, and Katie's shorter, uneven respirations, betraying the tense nervous strain under which she was laboring. I could hear them plainly through the draperies, and then I wondered if my own nerve strain was giving me hallucinations, for it seemed to me that I could hear some one else breathing upon the other side of the door in the little side hall. A door from that hall led into the dining room, but it had been closed when the lights went out, and I had heard no sound of its opening. Yet I kept hearing that other breathing, even though I was sure that my ears were playing me false.

"WELL, OPEN IT THEN!" "Now," Smith said at last, and it was no whisper this time, but a low guttural growl which sent little shivers along my spine, so reminiscent was the sound of that night in the rounds of the big reservoir when I had seen the face of the wounded state trooper, and had been warned to lie still by this same guttural voice coming out of the darkness.

"Take your light," he went on, "and go to this desk you speak of. Let your light play upon it. Then I come."

There was the lofty condescension of a goliath to an earthworm in his tone. Katie to him was a menial and a woman, therefore, touching the lowest point of the social scale in his estimation.

That my little maid, despite the stress of the situation, recognized the tone and resented it, I knew by the switch of her skirts and the room to the antique desk in which Lillian had hidden the eyeglass case for Smith to find. I could see nothing of her movements through the heavy draperies curtaining off the alcove, but I visualized to myself most satisfactorily the play of her flashlight over the polished surface of the old desk.

Smith gave a grunt of something as near commendation as he evidently permitted himself to utter, and then his footsteps followed Katie to the desk.

"Is it locked?" he snapped. "Everybody sound sleep in house."

Katie whispered.

"You didn't say that before. Where did you get a key to this?" There was distinct suspicion in the guttural tones.

"Dot easy—" Katie was elaborating on the "acting stuff" she so loved. "But the woman who always keep key in her work-bag. My maiss she take out run time thing in eet, sub back key. I see how she do eet, den tonight I get key same ways."

I knew that Lillian had drilled her in the story she was to tell, but she told it so naturally that for a second I was distinctly resentful of the doubtful role she had given me. That it satisfied Smith, however, I was sure, as he gravely gave a relaxation of suspicion in his tone.

"Well, open it then and be cursed quick about it!"

ALONG MAIN STREET

A man without a wife is a man without care.

People who talk to themselves often hear a lot of silly remarks.

The pride of a strong man is hurt when he gets a weekly salary.

Some people hold the key to the situation, and then are too lazy to turn it.

A man always looks well when he is looking for someone who owes him money.

The size of your troubles generally depends upon whether they are coming or going.

After a certain age, any man is more attracted by good cooks than by good looks.

No woman feels that she has lived in vain as long as she can make some other woman jealous.

The fool who is wise in his own conceit is probably happier than one who isn't wise at all.

It is encouraging to know that some people are bad enough to give good people something interesting to talk about.

Not everyone succeeds the first time he tries.

Knowing time is merely hurrying your future.

Virtue is its own reward, while vice gets all the publicity.

To make a lot of money is one way to make a lot of friends.

Blessed are the pure in art. They don't have to defend it.

It's the easiest thing in the world to make a bad matter worse.

You must meet your expenses if you expect to meet your friends.

When a woman touches up nature, she makes the whole world grin.

The average man is merely one who is no better than he ought to be.

A Warning Word to a Friend

Bob Loftus, a friend of mine out in

According to Loftus, two Irishmen, newly landed, got jobs as laborers in a small machine shop on the second story of a loft-building, so-called—on the lower West Side of New York. Under the fire regulations, smoking by the operatives was not permitted while they were on duty.

During their first morning in their new place one of the green hands, whose name was Dolan, craved a few comforting whiffs from his pipe. He voiced his desire and a friendly fellow employee confided to him that in such cases it was customary to ask leave of the foreman to go to the washroom and there to steal a clandestine smoke.

Thus advised, Dolan approached his boss and inquired the whereabouts of the washroom.

"Go down the hall," said the foreman, "and take the first turn to the right, and the second door you come to after that is the lavatory."

Dolan undertook to follow instructions but he made a mistake. In the darkness he took the turn to the left instead of the righthand turn and opening the second door stepped into the elevator shaft and struck with a bump on the ground floor below.

Presently he came back upstairs. He was sweeping up rubbish when O'Day, his buddy, asked him where the washroom was. O'Day also felt the need of the solace of tobacco.

Dolan gave him the direction as he remembered it and O'Day turned to go he called out to him:

"But say, Larty, look out for the top step—it's a son-of-a-gun!"

Lumber Ships Crowd Docks With Cargoes

Oakland's harbor business nourished too suddenly yesterday and today, and in consequence Commissioner A. B. Carter and the harbor department are seeking some way to distribute five shiploads of lumber which were dumped on the Livingston and Dennison street wharves.

The five ships, according to Carter, came all at once. They were forced to dump their lumber cargoes on top of each other on the wharf, with the result that worried lumber dealers are now trying to pry their properties apart.

The city officials, in sending Oakland's tariff book to every seaport and steamship agency in the world, is also enclosing the Chamber of Commerce's booklet on Oakland.

Wealthy Arabian Slain in Revenge As Bride Sleeps

NOGALES, Ariz., April 20.—(United Press.)—Manuel Salom, a wealthy Arabian merchant of Mexico City, was reported in advance from that city today to have been the victim of a "harem murder" while sleeping by the side of his latest bride, to whom he had been married but a few days.

The killing is supposed to have been an act of vengeance of relatives of another bride whom he is said to have discarded 15 days after marrying her.

All those involved are of the Arabian stock, known as the Libano-Syrian, of whom there is quite a colony in Mexico City. Many of them follow the Arabian custom of harems.

Salom's first bride was Maria Perez Nimes Farjat. Salom was married to her under the rites of the Mohammedan religion, but discarded her, alleging that the ceremony and marriage contract were not binding in Mexico.

Infuriated relatives of the discarded bride threatened vengeance.

Fifteen days later, Salom took another bride, Maria Kemal. He married under the civil marriage law of Mexico.

While Salom was sleeping by his new bride's side Wednesday night the murdered entered the mansion, plunging a knife into Salom's heart and escaped unperceived without awakening the bride.

WILL AID BRYN MAWR ASPIRANTS

Tomorrow night is set by members of the Bryn Mawr Industrial Athletic Association of Oakland, for a dance to aid the scholarship fund for women workers in industry who seek admission to the Bryn Mawr Summer school, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Twelfth and Harrison street, which is sponsored by the Oakland Recreation department through its department of industrial activities, Miss Minette Brodke, director.

Two of the seven Pacific coast scholarships at the third Bryn Mawr summer session, which opens June 1, have been awarded to the bay region, and there is a possibility of a third one provided traveling expenses for the young women can be met by local friends of the workers and of the summer school.

The dance of Saturday night is the answer of the Oakland committee, of which Miss Brodke is an active member and Mrs. Heansby, chairman, to that possibility.

Six workers have applied for admission this year to Bryn Mawr, including Velma Portin, Lillian Smith, Elsie Sears, of the Mazda Lamp company; Elsie Stachler, Crystal Laundry; Ruth Dunn, Western Electric company; and Gladys Doty, of Knight-Columbian company.

BOND CAMPAIGN WAKES ALAMEDA TO SCHOOL NEED

Great Interest Displayed in Proposed $750,000 Issue for High School.

Essays, songs and slogans dedicated to the campaign for a new high school and the passage of a $750,000 bond issue at the municipal election, May 1, are flooding the office of Dr. George C. Thompson, principal of the Alameda High school. Not only high school pupils are interested in the campaign, but outsiders as well. Many letters have come to the high school addressed to the bond campaign manager or the principal.

It is pointed out by the committee campaigning for the bonds that the present Alameda High school has been inadequate to the demands made upon it for the past ten years and at the present time is obsolete as an educational institution. The bond proposition has been endorsed by every civic organization and club in Alameda.

As a climax to the campaign, a holiday will be declared in Alameda, Thursday, April 26, when "Vote for Bonds" day will be held at Neptune beach. A parade more than ten blocks long will be held throughout the city on that day, depicting the evolution of education from the little red school house to the modern big institution of stone that should be the home of intermediate learning.

May pole dancers and bearers of a daisy chain will be in the line of march with the high school band and glee club.

The parade will enter the beach at 10 o'clock and will be held between the high schools of Alameda, Piedmont, Berkeley, San Leandro and Hayward. Several valuable prizes will be given away by the Alamedans, including a Ford coupe, gold watch, and suit of clothes.

The public schools of Alameda will be dismissed on bond day.

Lack of time was given by the governor as the reason for the suspension of the paper.

HOSPITAL IN AIR NOW UNDER WAY AT M'COOK FIELD

New Airplane Will Permit Operations at 100 Miles An Hour.

DAYTON, Ohio, April 21.—Surgery above the clouds is the latest step in the advance of aviation.

A hospital airplane under construction at McCook Aviation Field. A special design distinguishes it from the ambulance plane now in use by the army air service.

The new ship will embody a hospital compartment to permit surgeons to perform the most delicate operations while traveling through space at 100 miles an hour.

Patients will rest on comfortable cots. In the present ambulance plane—a modified D.H. 4—passenger plane—patients are forced to lie in cramped quarters and, according to McCook officials, the surgeon in charge does not have enough room to move about his patients and administer to their needs.

The hospital plane will be built throughout especially to serve its one purpose—to make the sick or wounded as comfortable as possible during their treatment.

The capacity of the hospital plane will be a pilot, surgeon and two patients, if clinical work is to be done. If certain laboratory equipment is left below, the plane will carry a pilot, and four others.

Completion of the hospital ship will fill a need which has long existed in the air service.

Especially constructed compartments will carry surgical instruments and medicines.
